

Margot Freed—'Rebel' Role Brings Chortles

By MILTON MARMOR
LONDON (AP)—As a revolutionary, Britain's Dame Margot Fonteyn is a great ballerina. Take that word from friends, relatives and associates, all equally astounded that Panama police should think Britain's greatest ballerina may be mixed up in a revolutionary plot.

"We all think she would make a marvelous revolutionary—on the stage. She'd know exactly what costumes to wear and she'd look glorious with a knife between her teeth."

Dame Margot doesn't need the training. She is acclaimed as the greatest ballerina in the Western world.

Margaret began dancing at four. When the family moved to Shanghai she took up ballet dancing seriously.

TRADE PACT AGREEMENT BY CANADA, AUSTRALIA

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and Australia have successfully completed the initial stage of negotiations on a new trade agreement which, informants said today, may help expand Commonwealth trade generally.

People Paying Piper for Tory 'Tune'—Pearson

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson, accusing the government of showing "bad faith and bad management" in its policies, said Thursday night Canada's word doesn't mean as much now as it used to.

'FLEXIBLE FLEMING'

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition leader Pearson Tuesday night tagged Finance Minister Fleming with a new title—"Flexible Fleming."

Entering the second last day of the eight-day Commons budget debate, he said the budget presented April 9 by Finance Minister Fleming shows the "startling contrast between past promises and present performance."

It has "lost face both at home and abroad," he said. "The word of Canada doesn't mean as much now."

Greeted with government challenges that he give examples, he referred to the government's refusal to send RCMP reinforcements to Newfoundland; to its "repudiation" of financial aid terms in that province's confederation agreement decided "finally and irrevocably and unilaterally" by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, and to the government's refusal to buy certain paintings for the National Gallery.

Mr. Pearson said the budget Continued on Page 2

Industrial Output At All-Time High

OTTAWA (CP)—Industrial production in Canada hit an all-time high in February, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Regaining its stride after the 1957-58 slump, the production index—based on 1949 equalling 100—rose for six consecutive months to reach a record 160.9 in February, up 3.1 points from January and 9.7 points from February last year.

This 9.7-point rise in the index, adjusted for shifts in Canada's production seasons, compared with a drop of 9.3 points in the similar 12-month period a year ago.

All major segments of the industrial production index showed gains in February. The mining index rose to 256.4 from 243.1 in January and 242 in February last year; manufacturing to 143.4 from 141.4 and 135.2, respectively; electric power and gas utilities, to 263.6 from 261.7 and 237.3.

Industrial production is a key indicator of Canada's economic health. February's gains and emphasis to the forecast of Finance Minister Fleming in his April 9 "recovery" budget that Canada's national production this year would rise by 7 per cent to a record $34,500,000,000.

Government agencies reported Monday that unemployment in Canada declined for the second straight month between late February and late March. This was a reversal of the usual seasonal trend.

Renew Butter Support
OTTAWA (CP)—The government has decided to renew the present floor price on butter at 64 cents a pound and to reduce supports on other dairy products in efforts to discourage surplus production, it was learned today.

U.S. Labels Russ Demand Hypocritical

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today rejected as completely hypocritical a new Soviet demand that the Western powers withhold nuclear and other modern weapons from West German forces.

The Soviet government, in a note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Tuesday, charged that the West could torpedo the Geneva foreign minister's meeting on German issues by going ahead with NATO defence measures.

The Big Four ministers will meet next month. State department press officer Lincoln White declared in a statement that what the Soviet government seeks is to get the West to "discontinue the defensive measures it has undertaken against the threat posed by Soviet armed might."

SOCRED GOV'T SIMILAR TO FASCISTS—BRYAN

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Social Credit government in B.C. is becoming "increasingly similar" to a Fascist party, Mel Bryan, former Social Credit member of the legislature, said Tuesday night.

Now a Liberal member for North Vancouver, Mr. Bryan told a party rally here the government "withholds reports, makes deals without public knowledge and now it proudly announces the final Wenner-Gren deal won't even come before the legislature."

"If all the people in the province who are leaving Social Credit were lined up end to end, the premier would have a heart attack."

Will Wen-Gren Drop Scheme?

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Wall Street Journal took a long look today at Axel Wenner-Gren's ambitious hydro-electric power and mining scheme in British Columbia.

The financial paper pointed out that the Swedish financier still could back away from the whole idea as he did from his Canadian development scheme in Southern Rhodesia "in highly similar circumstances several years ago."

Correspondent Raymond Scherick, writing from Hudson's Hope, B.C., mentioned, but did not dwell on, another aspect of Wenner-Gren's vast Peace River scheme—the Swedish financier now is 78 years old and his B.C. scheme is no development to be rushed to completion in a year or so.

The Journal also treated with reserve the pledge of the Wenner-Gren interests to start construction next year of a 400-mile monorail system to the Yukon border.

U.S. CAPITAL?

Noting that B.C. premier W. A. C. Bennett takes the Wenner-Gren promise to start work on the monorail system in dead earnest, the Journal speculates that perhaps the Swedish financier and his Canadian and British associates hope to get American capital for that part of their scheme because the railway would lead toward Alaska.

It is pointed out that, so far, the explorations have been carried out with great secrecy although some 460 claims have been filed at the Vancouver mining recorder's office by Wenner-Gren's Totem Mineral, Ltd.

Reds Whip Thousands In Streets

By A. K. GUPTA

KATHMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Communist Chinese troops have turned Tibet into a vast prison with thousands of Tibetans being whipped each day in the streets and Buddhist nuns sent to army camps for the pleasure of the troops, refugees fleeing to Nepal reported today.

They said nearly 2,500 Tibetan monasteries were damaged or destroyed by Communist artillery in the past month and nearly 8,000 monks killed, 12,000 arrested and about 800,000 lamas forced to flee homeless and hungry into the mountains.

This correspondent travelled through the snow-covered 17,000-foot mountain passes in reach the border of Tibet and interview the refugees. At the Nepal-Tibet border a few miles north of the village of Tarku, I met some refugees who said some of 30 well-armed Chinese divisions in Tibet were led by Russians.

One English-speaking Tibetan named Thote, a 27-year-old graduate of Peiping University, said the Chinese killed 165 members of his clan in the village of Ghetumba in Kham province. He said he saw his father machine-gunned for refusing to betray other Tibetan patriots.

VILLAGES GONE

Thote said that during his flight to Nepal he has passed through 65 villages that had been known as good trading centres and that every one was destroyed by the Communists with not a sign of life visible anywhere.

"Every Tibetan was a prisoner," he said. "The whole country was turned into a vast prison. Dusk to dawn curfews were imposed all over Tibet and did not allow normal living."

Thousands of peaceful, innocent Tibetans were being whipped daily in open places in the course of questioning and inhuman methods were being applied for confession. Mostly the people preferred to confess as desired by the Chinese than stand tortures any longer.

NUNS SUICIDE

"Markets are closed; essential consumer goods have disappeared; trade is finished, resulting in numberless deaths inside houses, from artificial starvation caused by the Chinese. Any mention of devotion to the Dalai Lama was a serious crime and people were being forced to show their entire devotion to the Panchen Lama."

"Large numbers of nuns, who locally are called 'ennis,' have been forced to live in army camps at the pleasure of the Chinese. Several nuns reportedly committed suicide."

Black-Veiled Royal Couple Warmly Greeted by Pope

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Sombrely dressed in black with black veils and mantillas, the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret today were received in private audience by Pope John XXIII.

It was Princess Margaret's second audience with a pope. Plus XII received her 10 years ago when she spent a holiday in Italy.

Sir Marcus Cheke, British minister to the Vatican, has denied press reports that today's audience means the princess wishes to join the Roman Catholic Church, or that the papal representative in London will be elevated from apostolic delegate to papal nuncio.

The 77-year-old pontiff met the two women at the threshold of his quarters, shook their hands warmly and ushered them into his library for the private audience.

The Queen Mother and the princess made slight curtsies but did not kneel, as Roman Catholics do when meeting the Pope.

They wore black dresses and veils customary for papal audiences. But the somberness of their costume was brightened by tiaras, and the Queen Mother wore the jewel and blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter.

The conversation was in French, which the Pope, Queen Mother and princess all speak fluently. The Pontiff opened the audience by apologizing for being unable to speak English.

COMMONS GETS START ON NEW ENERGY BOARD

OTTAWA (CP)—The government started parliamentary machinery rolling today to create a national energy board which would exercise a measure of control over Canada's gas and oil industries.

Trade Minister Churchill gave customary notice on the Commons order paper of a resolution to proceed formal introduction of the necessary legislation.

The brief notice gave no details of how the board would function or how much control it would have over the industries.

shows a record peacetime deficit for last year and record expenditures for both last year and this. Yet spending on capital works—"on the things that make jobs"—was to be down $68,000,000 this year from last.

"So much for the great billion-dollar public works program."

Yet all these expenditure increases were being made by a government elected on the "solemn promise" that it would cut expenses.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker "has called the political tune. It's the people who are paying the piper."

EXPEDIENTCY POLICY

The government had elevated expediency into a principle and policy of government.

Mr. Diefenbaker, during the election campaign had promised to cut taxes and raise old age pensions and had said promises that can't be kept should never be made.

"Where are the other vows of yesteryear?" demanded Mr. Pearson.

What of Mr. Diefenbaker's talk of diverting 15 per cent of Canada's import buying to the United Kingdom from the United States?

Last year the imbalance of trade between Britain and Canada had increased. Meantime, imports from the U.S. had risen during the early months of this year.

"That's a diversion in the wrong direction," Mr. Pearson taunted, as both Mr. Fleming and Mr. Diefenbaker listened attentively.

At one point, both Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton and Mr. Diefenbaker vigorously interrupted to claim that Mr. Pearson was misrepresenting a statement by the resources minister.

WICKS SILENT ON IWA's MEDIATION BID

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks was non-committal Tuesday following a meeting with International Woodworkers of America officials who asked him to mediate its current wage dispute.

Mr. Wicks said only it was "a very amicable" meeting. It was attended also by representatives of Forest Industrial Relations, representing firms negotiating with the 27,000-member woodworkers' union.

The mediation proposal was suggested as an alternative to normal conciliation procedures. IWA seeks a 20 per cent wage boost.

Gold Strike Starts Rush

(Compiled From CP)

GRAND FORKS—Gold seekers carrying flashlights are reported hunting for the elusive metal in the Rock Creek district, 30 miles west of here.

Three men are reported to have made a rich placer strike in the area and when it became known several parties started for the creek, 200 miles east of Vancouver.

Stan Kuzicka, president of the Canadian Legion in Greenwood, and two unidentified companions are reported to have found gold in the creek gravel when their truck became stuck. One carried a small bottle half full of light gravel and what appeared to be gold.

The strike was made between Rock Creek, a settlement of 250 people, and Beaverdell, 30 miles to the north.

Gagliardi's Son Admits Speeding

KAMLOOPS (CP)—The 18-year-old son of Highways Minister Gagliardi was convicted Tuesday of a speeding charge and fined $15.

His father has been fined three times for speeding.

Robert Gagliardi admitted in police court that he travelled 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone near Spence's Bridge.

In tow, The accident occurred west of the Second Narrows Bridge, east of the downtown area. Police said the vessel ducked between the tug Gillian Lindsay and its tow and was hit by the scow.

YOUTH KILLED

LILLOOET—A Vancouver youth was killed and two of his young friends seriously injured when their car left Moha Road near here and crashed 450 feet into the Bridge River.

The dead youth was identified as James Maclean, 17, Gavin Idler, 16, suffered severe head injuries and broken ribs and Glen Leblanc, 15, a fractured pelvis. Idler was in critical condition in hospital here today.

The accident was believed to have happened Monday night.

AIRPORT AID ASKED

VANCOUVER—A five-man delegation will go to Ottawa next month, seeking a $10,300,000 loan to help build a new passenger terminal at International Airport here.

The city council named Mayor Tom Aisbury to head the delegation. It was unofficially reported Tuesday that the federal government had planned rejection of an earlier bid for assistance.

Total cost of the new terminal would be $13,750,000. The federal government has agreed to provide $3,450,000.

to escape Chinese brutalities," he said.

Lithon, another refugee, said 20,000 Chinese troops were searching each house and every person in search of offenders along the southwestern border of Tibet and that most of the people had fled to the barren plateaus and now were dying of hunger and cold.

"The Chinese have confiscated every ounce of corn available in the area and have scorched the entire standing crops in the field, turning the entire vegetation into ashes," he said.

"Every person must beg food from the Chinese officer at the nearest camp, waiting hours in long unending lines and only those who could satisfy the Chinese of their loyalty managed to get one meal."

Anglani, who lost his wife and three children while escaping, said he saw Russians with the Chinese and believed they were helping the Communists build a big concentration camp at the 17,000-foot level at the northern base of Mt. Everest.

Despite this campaign of terror, the refugees said the Tibetans still were continuing their fight against the Communists and showing open defiance of their Red rulers.

They said lockets with the picture of the Dalai Lama were worn in spite of the fact that Chinese soldiers have orders to shoot on sight anyone wearing such a locket.

Youth Loses Appeal

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 16-year-old Victoria boy lost his appeal Tuesday from a sentence of one year definite and six months indefinite.

Donald Richard Nelson was given the term by Magistrate W. L. Ostler, February 17, for stealing a car.

REACHES BARBADOS IN ROUND-WORLD BID

City Man Emulates Tilikum

Former Victoria yachtsman John Guzzwell reached Barbados Tuesday in the course of a leisurely and solitary round-the-world voyage in his 18-foot yawl Trekka.

He left here in September, 1953, with indefinite plans, but has apparently decided to emulate the round-the-world feat of Capt. J. C. Voss and his sailing canoe Tilikum. Capt. Voss completed his epic cruise in 1904.

Mr. Guzzwell's Trekka is about two-thirds the length of the Tilikum. A cabinet maker from England, Mr. Guzzwell built his yawl here over an 18 month period.

His first stop after leaving Victoria was Hawaii, which he reached in 29 days under ideal sailing conditions. From Hawaii he sailed to Australia, and at one time was reported missing off the Australian coast, but turned up safely. He then sailed to Durban, South Africa.

He reached Barbados Tuesday after a 37-day, 3,000-mile journey from Ascension.

Mr. Guzzwell told reporters he hoped to complete his circumnavigation by September of this year, and that he would set a record for the smallest boat to make such a voyage.

Fleming Hits Back At Liberal Critics

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA—Finance Minister Fleming attacked the Liberal opposition Tuesday as a party without a policy, happy only when the economy is lagging.

"They are happy only when they revel in what is bad news for the Canadian people," Mr. Fleming said as he took the floor to reply to seven days of opposition criticism in the budget debate.

He said the Liberals have cast doubts on his budget forecast of a seven-per-cent rise in national production this year.

"If this forecast is borne out in the event, the Liberals will be disappointed," Mr. Fleming said. They wouldn't admit that recovery is going on.

He spoke a few hours before a vote on a Liberal non-confidence motion accusing the government of "bad faith" in producing a budget of higher taxes, record expenditures and a large deficit after having been elected on promises of lower taxes, reduced expenditures and a balanced budget.

The motion was defeated on a vote of 167 to 45, with the Liberals supported by the CCF party.

'Hit-and-Run Speeches' Charged

Mr. Fleming said neither the Liberal motion nor speeches by party members have said what the opposition would have done; instead there had been "a series of hit-and-run speeches."

"They have run right away from anything like an expression of opinion on matters in the budget."

Harold Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) said the finance minister's speech showed him to be "a Don Quixote Fleming charging against mirages."

Canada needed, a minister "prepared to face realities" of increasing interest rates, continuing unemployment, inflation and growing competition for export markets.

He said Mr. Fleming will go down in history as "the great betrayer" because his budget divorced financial policy from his party's election promises, from realistic tax policies and from the needs of the common people.

Cigaret, Whisky Tax Boosts Blasted

Finance Minister Fleming's decision to add more tax to the cost of cigarettes and whisky was "a damn shame," Mr. Winch said Tuesday.

"It wouldn't be so bad if he'd bring in a law and take some of the water out of it," Mr. Winch said, adding his gratitude that the minister "left the working man's beer alone."

He also paid a compliment to brewers that have announced they will absorb the effect of a 1 per cent increase in the sales tax.

Mr. Winch said that before Mr. Fleming's decision April 9 to increase the cigarette tax another two cents a package of 20, smokers were already paying 17.7 cents tax on each pack they bought.

As for drinkers of spirits—whisky and that sort of thing—80 cents of every dollar spent on such beverages was federal or provincial tax before Mr. Fleming's decision to raise the tax still higher, by about 15 cents a 25-ounce bottle. Of the 80 cents, Mr. Winch said, 43 went to the federal government.

With the tax in cigarettes and drink so high already, Mr. Fleming had "put on a little too much" when he decided to ask for more—especially since his budget took no action to tax those who make "millions" in stock market deals.

Newsprint columnist Margaret Aitken charged Tuesday that a proposal by a CCF member to prohibit publication of opinion polls before an election is a foot in the door to infringement of freedom of expression, opinion and the press.

The Progressive Conservative MP for York-Humber received a round of desk-thumping applause from her colleagues, who backed up her forthright denunciation of the bill by voting it down by 190 to 6.

Twenty-eight Liberals sided with the Progressive Conservatives although none of the Liberal MPs participated in the 45-minute debate on the measure, sponsored by Arnold Peters (CCF, Timiskaming). The vote was the first this session on a private member's bill.

A total of 183 RCMP members up to the rank of staff sergeant resigned between July, 1958, and March 18, 1959, the House was informed on Tuesday.

A written reply tabled by Justice Minister Fulton for Frank Howard (CCF, Skeena), showed that 82 went on pension, 39 quit because they lost interest in police duties, 39 because they could not comply with marriage regulations, 12 to take more lucrative employment, five to take further education, four for personal reasons and two for health reasons.

The number of resignations by commissioned officers was not reported.

John Akins Rites Set for Thursday

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday for John Sanderson Akins, 88, a resident of Victoria for 56 years. He died Monday.

The services will be held at McCall's Funeral Chapel at 1.15 p.m.

Mr. Akins was born in Gary, Ont., in 1870 and came to Victoria in 1903. Between 1919 and 1946, when he retired, he was advertising manager for David Spencer Ltd. He was prominent among lawn bowl ers and a member of the Laurier Club.

HIGHER SALMON PRICES SOUGHT BY FISHERMEN

VANCOUVER (CP)—The United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (Ind.) has demanded increased salmon prices for 1959. It was learned Tuesday.

The union wants 32 cents a pound for sockeye, compared with last year's 28 cents.

Other requested prices: 13 cents for pinks, compared with 9½ last year; 12 cents in all areas for chums (last year the chum price ranged 7½ to 12 cents depending on area and season), and 24 cents for coho as against 1958's 18 cents.

NEW PWA PLANES WON'T CHANGE STAND

Mayor Sticks With TCA

Victoria still backs Trans-Canada Air Lines, Mayor Percy Scurrell said Tuesday. Commenting on a Pacific Western Airlines' postponement of its bid to take over Victoria-mainland air services, he said:

"Regardless of any new situation, the attitude of the city is unchanged. We still will expect TCA to serve this area."

PWA delayed its application before the air transport board to make a thorough evaluation of operating costs—if it should switch to turbo-propeller aircraft.

In the 10 years up to 1957 South Africa's gross national product increased from $967,000,000 to $2,243,000,000.

Caution Signal Flashing

THE DISPUTE BETWEEN THE Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and the Canadian National Railways has reportedly reached a critical state.

The union has received authority to stage a nation-wide strike. But indications are that if it follows such a course, no open or outright support will be given by other railway unions.

In other words, the firemen, if they walk off the job, will go it alone. The outcome of such a course was clearly shown in the Canadian Pacific Railway strike a year ago. In that instance firemen were unable to enlist the backing of other railway workers and their demonstration ended in failure.

Under existing circumstances, wiser counsels may prevail this year and the CNR should avoid a difficulty which, its officials say, will not stop the trains in any event.

It seems apparent from the CPR experience that the case for maintaining two trained engineers on yard and freight locomotives has already been proved unsound. If such men are not required by the CPR, why should they be required by the CNR?

The point has also been made that no men employed in the contentious positions will lose seniority or employment. They will continue to work, but no new firemen will be hired.

It is not surprising in the light of these facts that other unions, viewing the issue clearly, are not disposed to jeopardize their own positions by pledging support to a strike.

The findings of the Kellock Commission which investigated the firemen's demands on the Canadian Pacific, seem valid in the present case. Certainly the Kellock report was in no way injured when it was attacked by a few union organizers in the United States last year.

The Canadian public, incensed by such comment from across the border, has been amply informed also on the consequences of higher railway costs. The people know that they, and they alone, meet those costs, and that, as charges rise, Canada's competitive position in the trading world is further damaged.

As the current dispute moves into its decisive stage, the firemen's union will be well advised to remember the difficulties encountered by any strike which lacks public sympathy and support. The union can have no illusions about the public's attitude as it notes the lack of enthusiasm for its case shown by others within the ranks of organized labor.

After the Brains Are Trained

IT IS DISAPPOINTING TO learn from Dr. W. E. van Steenburgh, director-general of science services for the federal department of mines and technical surveys, that Canada is losing to the United States 30 per cent of the scientists helped by Canada to earn doctorates in some professions.

If this country is assisting such young people to qualify for Ph.D. degrees, it seems reasonable to expect from the students a certain return for the country's expenditure.

There may, of course, be an explanation which indicates that such students make a contribution to Canada whether they work here or in the United States.

But while a somewhat disappointed country seeks reasons for a seeming lack of appreciation for their homeland by a large number of Canadian-trained Ph.D.s, it might profitably note remarks to a conciliation board in Victoria the other day.

Mr. J. D. McIntosh, representing the city police commission, was opposing an application for higher pay for police officers. He compared their educational requirements to those of many others in British Columbia who, "having spent four to eight years in university are then paid less than third class constables."

If that comparison is valid in other parts of Canada, it is understandable that a number of highly-educated Canadians seek their futures and fortunes elsewhere—and they can scarcely be accused of disloyalty.

Take It to The Hague

VICE-PRESIDENT NIXON should find wide international agreement for his plan to increase the powers and prestige of the International Court of Justice at The Hague as a means of replacing the rule of force by the rule of law.

Under Mr. Nixon's proposal, which has received substantial support from President Eisenhower, the Hague court would be given wider jurisdiction and employment. International treaties, for instance, which become involved in quarrels as to interpretation would be subject to binding decisions from the court, and this factor would be spelled out in the treaties.

It would thus be less easy for Russia, say, to announce that it would ignore the Berlin treaties after a certain date. Recourse to the Hague tribunal would be immediate and automatic and the decision of the court would stand.

Such a decision could not necessarily be enforced, of course, unless in the last analysis the countries concerned were prepared to go to war. But there would be heavy moral pressure on any nation to observe the court's ruling, and wide condemnation among even neutral lands for those powers which chose to ignore the court.

In a period when both East and West are striving to win the support of the neutral lands such as India, moral pressure would be very significant. It would serve to meet the argument that only the small nations would obey the court in any case, and that great powers would suit only themselves.

That principle has always existed. It was demonstrated in 1914, in 1939, and in the 1950 Korean adventure. But this is no valid argument against trying to correct the situation, against seeking to bring world opinion into play in enforcing international agreements.

In the absence of a world police force—and perhaps even with one—moral persuasion must be the final weapon of right against force. Insofar as Mr. Nixon's proposal is a step in the direction of strengthening the moral fibres of the world and enforcing the sanctity of international treaties, it deserves the support of all countries.

One-Way Street

REPORTS FROM NEW YORK state that dance director Igor Moiseyev has been officially reprimanded by the Soviet government for returning home from a United States tour with too glowing an account of United States life and art.

This is the Moiseyev whose televised dance programs have won the applause of millions in America.

The impression made on the Russian artist by the country he visited has been balanced by the impression made by the artist on his American audience.

This, as we have noted, is the intent of cultural exchanges. It seems highly unfortunate that Soviet authority should consider such visits a one-way propaganda street. What purpose will they serve if Russian artists leave their homeland with instructions to make the West love them, but, under no circumstances, to fall in love with the West?

Children of a Wandering Tongue

A VOLUNTEER ORGANIZATION in France, the Office of French Vocabulary, is now conducting a campaign to purge French of foreign words and phrases.

Members of the group are shocked by the intrusion into the French language of such English terms as "business-man," "up-to-date," "surprise party," "bungalow," and "weekend"—which can be strung together with a like number of French words to make an intelligible sentence.

Let's speak and write French, suggests the organization.

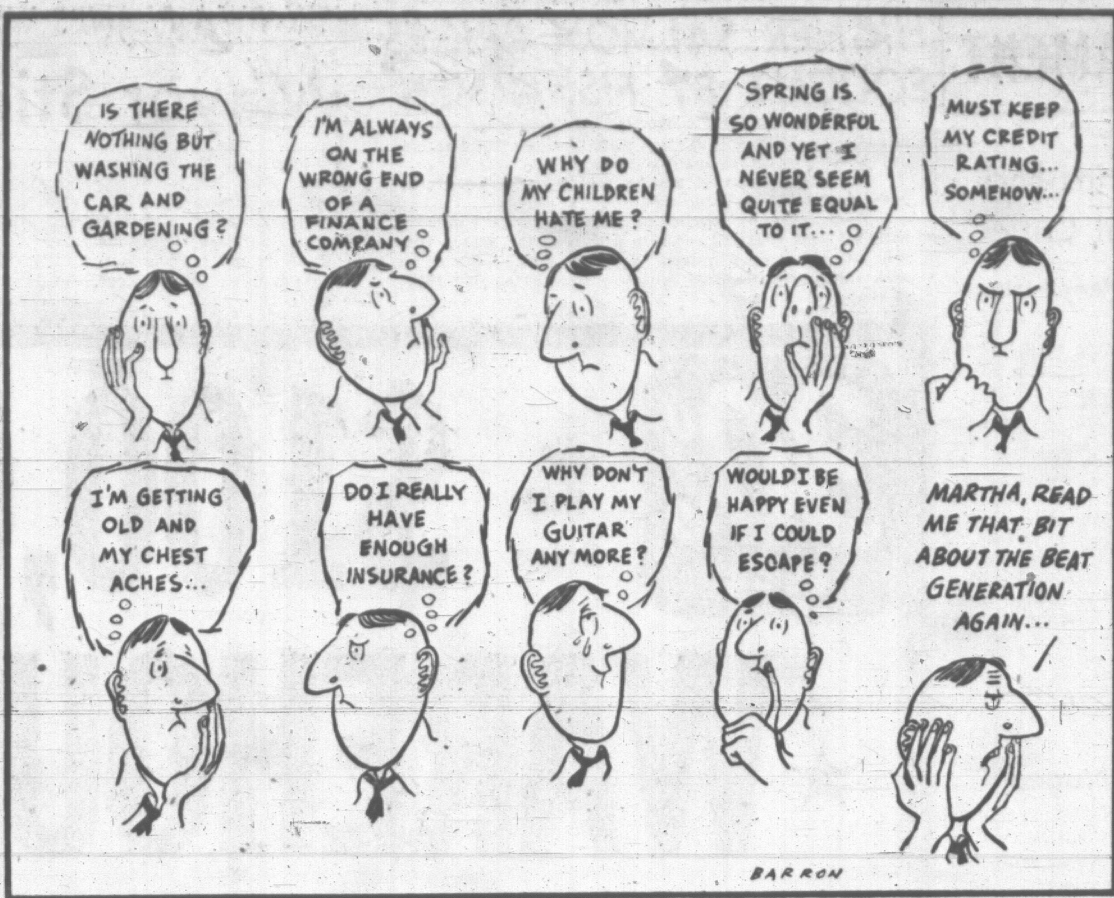

Which seems a little biased when one considers the invasion into English of French words. From the days of William the Conqueror to the latest injection of Paris fashions, French phrases have been on continuing loan to the English-speaking world.

The Office of French Vocabulary probably has a point though. There is a tinge of illegitimacy in language which permits unrestricted fraternizing.

Perhaps the English-speaking world should reciprocate, removing the French noun which has too precious a tone.

AT THE ROOT OF THE TROUBLE

By B. A. TOBIN

So Lawn, It's Been Good t' Mow Ya...

THIS is the time of year when the householder—and some of us out in Saanich have a pretty precarious hold, what with the new double-or-nothing assessment system (they get double and you get nothing) and other inflationary trends—when the householder, I repeat, begins to worry about his lawn.

Ordinarily, grass isn't a very big worry. It comes up, you cut it; it comes up, you cut it. The principle is fairly simple, and the practice—well, you hardly need any practice at all.

But now and then something goes wrong. The system breaks down at Step I: the grass doesn't come up. This leaves Step II incomplete, and if there's anything a householder—out in Saanich we're more householders than housegrasses—hates worse than an incomplete step I don't know what it is.

An incomplete step has only one advantage: it can only be assessed for part of its completed value. Otherwise there's very little to be said for it. Alas, nothing, in fact.

Alternative

Well, about the grass. The reason Step I breaks down and the grass doesn't come up is that something else comes up instead.

Out in Saanich we have some of the poorest grass in the world; it will make way for almost anything that wants its place. Galloping fescue, creeping bent, festering clod—no matter what tough names you may give it, it still says "After you, Alphonse," to the first weed that comes along.

There's even an advantage in this rotation system, if you want to view it that way. Out in Saanich, for instance, we householders—housegrasses are perhaps closer to the spirit of the thing—are never troubled with chickweed in the lawn for very long.

The moss drives it out.

That's one reason we all have such nice neat green lawns; moss takes very little watering and it never grows very high. In fact, if you come right down to it—and it doesn't seem to go more than six or eight inches down—moss is a much more convenient ground covering than grass.

Moss is a reality, grass is only a custom; moss is born to the job, grass is coerced into it.

The story goes that at some dim early date a patch of Swedish meadow was accidentally cut shorter than usual. The grass looked at its short, bristly self and liked what it saw. "Ah, want to be a lawn," it announced, but it's been with us ever since.

Mossbacks

Out in Saanich we householders—housegrasses are perhaps the word I want—will be heard to say of a Saturday afternoon: "Well, I guess I'll get busy and mow the moss." Or perhaps we're in the chickweed stage, and you'll hear: "The lawn's getting awfully long. Egbert, you'd better check the chickweed."

Of course, we aren't confined to moss and chickweed. Confined? Ha! There's hardly a house out our way that isn't surrounded with a botanist's dream.

Little leafy growths you've never heard of, tiny green outcroppings you never saw in your life until the day you tripped over the mossmower and landed with your face in them, delicate little tendrils of green that twine and creep and weave their way for yards in all directions: large-leaved, small-leaved, medium-leaved, upright, downright, perennial, centennial, deciduous, perfidious—we've got them all.

All of them are resistant to heat, cold, wetness, dryness, sprays, pellets, powders, 2-4-D and T-4-2.

More than one of us Saanich householders—would houseclutter be a better word?—have thought seriously of deeding our lawns to science.

A fellow like Darwin, for instance, might develop a whole new school of botany just by studying one of our lawns for a few years. Someone with the ability of Linnaeus might well evolve a whole new nomenclature for his work—in fact, he would have to.

However, as I say, this is the time of year when lawnholders start to worry about their lawns. We begin to read literature on the subject, and think of the expanse of bare earth that has been waiting several years for seed—apart from the efforts of nature to bury it under a lush growth of foliage three feet deep.

And we read, under the heading of preparations for sowing a lawn, that autumn is really the best time of the year for this sort of work.

That's the stuff for us. We put away the tools, the seed and the very idea. But we keep the book handy so that if it need be we can refer to it.

"Ah, yes," we'll remark tolerantly, "I was going to put my lawn in this week, but I think I'll wait. You get a much stronger growth in the fall, y'know."

That's six months' grace at least, and who can expect more these days? In the fall we can find another book that prefers a spring sowing, and we'll be back in the easy chair again.

As gardeners, we may have rocks in our head, out here in Saanich. But we can't feel them; they're comfortably covered with moss.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Entire Division There

May I request space in your paper to comment upon a signed article which appeared in the issue of the 18th instant dealing with the memorable gas attack of April 22, 1915, and, rather incidentally, mentioning the forthcoming banquet of the Red Chevron Association of Vancouver Island, held annually to commemorate that engagement?

It is singularly unfortunate that in accepting the experience of the 7th Battalion the writer of the article has succeeded in leaving the impression that that splendid regiment was the principal participant in the battle and forms the nucleus of the association.

Nothing, of course, could be further from the truth. The entire Canadian Division was fully engaged, as a brief examination of the casualty lists would demonstrate, and the membership of the Red Chevron Association comprises representatives of almost every formation of the division, each fiercely proud of the history and battle honors of his own unit.

In this context to single out one unit for mention is somewhat invidious. W. B. MONTEITH, President, Red Chevron Association of Vancouver Island.

As One Who Pays

It is always a pleasure to read Tony Emery and his last article on the Capital Region Plan was excellent. But I have one complaint.

Tony Emery and others like him are snug outside the city's boundaries. Their taxes are not included in the expenditures they plan.

These people come from the hinterlands to hold meetings in the city, tell the city-taxpayers they are myopic and penny-pinching. If amalgamation is as unlikely as a Canadian flag or new divorce laws, let's drop the matter!

Surely "our large population of matured and educated people" (Emery) who live in Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt can hold meetings to devise a plan to pay taxes instead of lip service to Victoria the beautiful, complete with auditorium. CITY TAXPAYER.

Afraid of Reality?

I absolutely agree with Mrs. M. N. Sherman's letter "The Goon and the Ostrich," April 16. Where in 1902 while in the Dutch Navy—I considered it my duty to attack publicly the order of the then Dutch Navy Secretary, forcing everybody on board of navy ships, while outside a harbor on Sundays, to attend the reading of a Churchianity treatise—which was in violation of the constitution, guaranteeing "freedom of religion"—it is surely no wonder that I oppose in every way the trend of these times to worshipping "churchianity" (which is quite something else than the principles of Christianity), and so hiding the realities of life, and depriving the gullible of the happiness they are entitled to in their earthly existence.

CD—Undertaker's Job

Civil Defence in Second World War provided Dr. R. J. Manion with remunerative employment after being defeated as Conservative party leader in the 1940 general election. He became national organizer of civil defence under Prime Minister King's beneficence. Happily the organization never had to deliver the goods in Canada.

In the current Civil Defence movement, volunteer workers are obviously public spirited. None can ever hope to attain any such remunerative employment under war conditions. The utility of it is plainly stated in President Eisenhower's words, as follows:

"Why strive for an 8,000-mile range missile when one with 5,000-mile range (which we now have) will do the job? Why build up a huge stock of ICBMs when 50 such missiles going each way would leave both Russia and the United States helpless to carry on a war? Any more would be like pouring shots into the body of a dead man."

By the same token, organized to come into operation on the outbreak of that nuclear missile war, Civil Defence would be, in President Eisenhower's words, for "the body of a dead man."

Italy Sets The Pace

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND
From Washington

DESPITE warnings from the Kremlin, despite threatened reprisals from the Communists at home, the government and the people of Italy have taken a momentous decision.

Italy's decision is to station NATO's most powerful deterrent and defensive weapon—the intermediate range missile with atomic warhead—on Italian soil.

It was eighteen months ago at the meeting in Paris, attended by President Eisenhower, that the NATO council gingerly accepted in principle the U.S. offer that NATO be equipped with IRBMs. The council left it up to each country to decline or accept them.

The mood was timid and the tactic was to delay doing anything in the wistful hope that somehow the overhanging Soviet threat could be magically negotiated away. Britain alone accepted American missiles.

Bold Decision

And now Italy. It is a bold decision diplomatically because it makes Rome the focal target of Moscow's roughest tactics.

It is a bold decision politically because it puts into the hands of the Italian Communist party a tool with which to whip up public opinion against the new Centre-Right government of Premier Antonio Signi whose support in the Italian Parliament remains to be sharply tested.

But Premier Signi, strongly backed by Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella, has decisively and irrevocably cast his lot with the fullest possible commitment to collective security. He has done so not to please the United States but in the deep conviction that he is serving Italy's national interests and that NATO must not only demonstrate the will but utilize the most modern means of self-defence.

This is the view he took when he was defence minister under the Fanfani government and this is the view he is taking now that he is himself prime minister.

Right One

It seems to me a magnificently brave decision—and a right one.

Unless you believe that NATO should be weak, unless you believe the Khrushchev doctrine that it is all right for the Soviet Union to possess missiles but all wrong for Western Europe to possess missiles, this is a good gift Italy has made to NATO on its tenth anniversary.

The Communists, whether Italian or French or American or Soviet—they speak the same voice—will try to persuade the world that the United States is just putting the Soviet Union on edge by providing NATO with missiles. But let us not forget these facts:

NATO came into being in a long-delayed, desperate act of self-defence after the Red Army made Soviet satellites out of every Eastern European nation, plus East Germany. After what happened in Hungary, there is no reason to believe that the Soviets are going home.

One-Sided

There are more people in the free nations of Western Europe than there are in the Soviet Union. Should these nations deny themselves the means of modern defence while the Soviets alone possess them?

Does anyone really believe that France or Italy or Germany, singly or together, are going to attack Russia when the consequence is mutual destruction? And if the U.S. didn't start a preventive war when it possessed atomic monopoly—and, therefore, immunity—it will not be so insane as to do so now?

Mr. K. advises that it would be best for Western Europe to disarm itself as rapidly as possible. I doubt that he is looking after the welfare of the West. (C) 1959 New York Herald Tribune Inc.

First Man Into Space

From The New York Times

WE live in an age of heroic adventure.

The past few years have seen such feats of courage and skill as the climbing of Mount Everest, overland treks across the Antarctic wastes and the cruises of the Nautilus and the Skate under the waters of the Arctic Ocean. But even these bold accomplishments pale before the adventure now on humanity's agenda: man's first flight into space.

Whoever first accomplishes this feat assures himself immortal fame alongside Columbus and Magellan. We Americans should not too readily assume that it will be one of the seven Mercury Astronauts who will be the first. No doubt Moscow is already training its own astronauts, and it may be a Russian rather than an American who first pits his frail body against the terrors of the cosmos.

But whether that Columbus of space is a Russian or an American is relatively inconsequential as compared with the fact that this dramatic feat is virtually certain within the foreseeable future.

The extreme demands that this adventure will impose upon the first pioneers are clearly indicated by the rigorous testing to which the Mercury Astronauts were subjected. In the seven who survived the elimination process we have men of great courage, outstanding physical development, first-class intelligence, and emotional stability.

A word should be said too for the courage of their wives and children who have agreed that these husbands and fathers risk the supreme hazard of our time. It is good that we have such outstanding human beings in our society, and our young people can properly look to these astronauts as examples to emulate.

No doubt the day will come when a flight to the moon will be considered as routine a matter as a flight from this city to Chicago is today. But before then the new crop of astronauts and their successors will certainly write many a shining page of courage, endurance and faith in humanity's annals.

Britain's Crazy Gang

LONDON—Rather a sad prediction by Bud Flanagan, leader of the Crazy Gang, the group of comics who are perennial favorites with English theatre-goers. At the opening of their "new revue he said: "This show we're doing now is the show in which one of us will die. Maybe more than one."

Cast in the same mold as Olsen and Johnson in their Hellzapoppin days, the Crazy Gang have been at it since 1931. The public never tires of them, each of their shows running 18 months to two years.

Originally six of them, they were made up of three double acts combining—Flanagan and Allen, Naughton and Gold, and Nervo and Knox. Several years ago Allen dropped out with a heart condition and the ages of the five remaining—61 to 74—have convinced Flanagan that the gang will gradually diminish "like the 10 little Indians."

As haywire off the stage as on it, Flanagan says they're prepared to die off but they don't worry about it. "Each time one of us says he feels bad we make a gag of it," he said. "We send a wreath around to his dressing room."

At the age when the average person is retired from business—or contemplating it, how does the Crazy Gang manage to keep up the pace of two shows nightly, more than five hours of hectic knockabout comedy? Do they conserve their energy by leading quite temperate lives away from the theatre?

Not a bit of it. The racetracks are their favorite haunt when off duty. Charlie

YOUR HEALTH

Plea for Understanding

EMERITUS CONSULTANT IN MEDICINE, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

As I will keep saying in this column, one of the disgraceful things about our civilization is our cruel behavior to the patient who has just been released from a mental hospital.

No one will want to give him a job. The minute an employment manager learns that he has been in a mental hospital, he says, "We will keep your name on file and will call you if anything shows up." But why this fear of a man who has been cured of insanity? He is not likely ever to become violent or to hurt anyone working alongside of him. He may be a bit difficult or tired at times, but who isn't? If his boss will only be kind, and will occasionally make allowances, the man probably will settle down to become a good workman.

I never knew how impossible it is for a man just out of a mental hospital to get a job until I read Mrs. Hackett's book, "The Cliff's Edge" (McGraw-Hill). There she tells how when her fine husband got out of the hospital, he walked the streets for weeks hunting a job, and no one would take him even as a common laborer. Eventually, the only job that he, a well-trained executive, could find open to him was that of a grave-digger. As Mrs. Hackett said, if a person who had never been insane had been treated that cruelly, he might well have lost his reason.

Today, in a few cities the people are facing this miserable situation and are opening "protected" shops in which people recently out of a mental hospital are given work that they can perform for wages. In such a shop there are kindly and trained people who will help the person who perhaps fears that he is slipping back a bit toward his old psychosis.

Naughton on his own admission is addicted to Scotch and never gets to bed before four in the morning. Flanagan smokes 80 cigarettes a day.

All in all, the Crazy Gang are a poor advertisement for temperance. But the public will be genuinely saddened when Flanagan's prediction starts to come true.

John Betjeman has disproved the old adage that you can't make money out of writing poetry. His Collected Poems, published last year, have caught the public fancy and made him "probably the only English poet to make enough from poetry to pay income tax."

Appeal of his verse is that it is not high-flown like the outpourings of more precious poets but captures the mood of everyday things like a suburban tearoom, or an old London railway station.

Usually a poet is lucky if he gets rid of a thousand copies of a book of poems. Betjeman has already hit 40,000 with his, a figure recognized in the book trade here as rating a book a "best seller."

Not since people queued outside bookshops in 1915 to buy the war poems of Rupert Brooke has any English poet had such financial success.

A shaggy, rumple-clothed 50-year-old, Betjeman describes himself in Who's Who as a hack. For years he has been a sort of odd-job man of journalism, available to any editor who wants a good job done on theatre or book reviewing, pieces on architecture, a general column, feature articles on practically any topic.

But currently he finds himself lionized by society—and royalty in the Duchess of Kent bracket—as a poet.

BRIEF URGES BILINGUAL
CIVIL SERVICE

OTTAWA (CP)—An increase in the number of bilingual persons in the federal civil service was proposed today in a brief to Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Main proposals of the brief, presented by La Federation des Societes St. Jean-Baptiste du Quebec, were:

Appointment of bilingual persons to posts where civil servants are called on to deal with both French and English-speaking citizens.

Equal opportunity to all civil servants for promotion to higher positions, regardless of racial origin.

'Beat U.S. Aces'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Peace River power, if relatively unnoticed in British Columbia, "has caused all hell to break loose in the United States," Lands Minister Williston said here Tuesday night.

Mr. Williston said "that job on the Peace will return more on a long-term basis than any other development in B.C. in years."

"U.S. power interests" now realize for the first time they haven't got B.C. at their mercy.

Williston said he is convinced the U.S. "has been waiting to get us over a barrel" ever since Columbia River talks broke off in 1956.

"They knew we would eventually have to develop the Columbia and were prepared to sit back and wait."

"They were sitting with four eyes until power was reported on the Peace" and overnight they lost their advantage.

The minister told a university group here he will also seek compensation for flood-control benefits on the lower Columbia as well as a substantial power return.

"U.S. interests followed engineering reports on the Peace closer than any group in B.C.," he said.

Canada Gets 'Bad Press'
In Britain

Canada is getting very "bad press" in Great Britain, Kiwanis Club members were told Tuesday.

Owner of the Olde England Inn, Sam Lane, who recently returned from a visit to his former homeland, said that "immigration people and others there are doing a grand job but somewhere along the line things are getting gummed up."

In a luncheon address at the Empress Hotel, Mr. Lane said that last January 9,000 people in London applied to go to Australia compared to 2,000 for Canada.

He attributed this to the attitude of business and government officials handling immigrants and cited several cases where immigrants had been treated in a cursory manner.

Mr. Lane said that every immigrant is apprehensive and sensitive to mistreatment since he is "giving up a sense of security" and moving into a different life.

He said that Canada was a young nation "with time to build our own temples" and warned that we should "avoid the excesses of the Old World... and the gross materialism" of the new.

Liquor Board Workers Get Pay Increase

Liquor Control Board chairman Col. Donald McGugan and all employees of the government liquor commission were granted pay increases by cabinet order-in-council Monday.

But there was still no indication of an anticipated increase in liquor prices.

Col. McGugan's salary was increased by $2,400 to $14,400—the same increase as was recently given deputy ministers. The increase for liquor board employees was in ratio with the increase granted other civil servants early in March.

Principal clerks' salaries, which ranged previously from $340 to $400 a month, now will be paid at the rate of $367 to $430. A Grade III clerk's salary, which previously ranged between $270 and $320, depending on service, now is increased to $324 to $389.

The increases are retroactive to April 1.

An increase in the price of whisky of an anticipated 25 cents per 25-ounce bottle is considered likely due to increased federal taxes announced in the budget at Ottawa.

CREDIT DEADLINE EXTENDED

War Pension Hike Hinted

MONTREAL (CP)—Veterans Affairs Minister Brooks said Tuesday night the government hopes to increase pension benefits for disabled war veterans.

He made the statement to the Department of Veterans Affairs Employees' National Association at the group's annual convention.

He declined to say whether the department had immediate plans to introduce a proposal to Parliament.

Mr. Brooks said the government plans to extend to September 30, 1962, the deadline for re-establishment credit under veterans' land settlement and home construction assistance legislation.

SYNOPSIS—The Arctic air mass which has been moving slowly southeastward through the prairies during the past few days was beginning to push across the Rockies into British Columbia this morning. Cold air is expected to cover most of the Cariboo and to work its way into the Kootenays by tonight but should not move west of the coast mountains during the next two days.

Considerable cloudiness will develop in the cold air over the Cariboo today and Thursday, with skies remaining mostly sunny elsewhere.

HOME GARDEN

Cold Frame Important Now

Young plants being raised from seed sown indoors, still require close attention.

They are now at the hardening-off stage—that is, they are being gradually subjected to outdoor conditions, but still protected from extremes of the weather.

A cold frame, with glass or polythene covers, as described frequently in these columns, is ideal for the process. The covers are removed early in the morning, allowing full air and sun over the plants.

At night when the covers are replaced to keep off frost, which is still around in most areas, wedges may be inserted under the lower end of each cover to raise it about three inches. This will allow cool air to circulate around the plants to harden them; yet will prevent frost from causing damage.

The exception to this opening of frames at night is in the case of warm-country plants such as salvia, dahlia celsia, African marigold and zinnia which should not be exposed to risk of frost.

Gardeners without a cold frame (they will soon make one if they start raising their own bedding annuals) will need to go to the trouble of placing the flats of plants outdoors each day, and taking them in at night.

If a mild night arrives, with plenty of cloud and perhaps a gentle rain, the flats may be left out, again with the reservations above.

Flats dry out fairly quickly with the rapidly growing roots and hot sun and air movement. Water thoroughly and gently as often as necessary.

'Antiquated' Divorce Laws Hit

OTTAWA (CP) — Harold Winch suggested in the Commons Tuesday that grounds for divorce should be broadened in Canada.

The CCF member for Vancouver East said "Canada is antedated and antiquated on the question of divorce legislation."

He also proposed that the Commons and Senate pass legislation giving to the Senate alone the job of handling divorces for Quebec and Newfoundland — only provinces that haven't their own divorce courts.

He described the present system of both the Senate and the Commons handling parliamentary divorces as "clumsy and outmoded" and added: "We're making a farce of the procedure."

On the broadening of grounds for divorce—in most provinces limited mainly to adultery—Mr. Winch suggested a husband or wife be enabled to apply for divorce on these additional grounds: 1, for desertion after three years; 2, for repeated physical or sexual cruelty; 3, for insanity if, after three years, the other marriage partner were still in an institution; 4, for imprisonment if the other partner were imprisoned for more than five years, or after three years of an indefinite-length sentence.

Frogman Battered By River

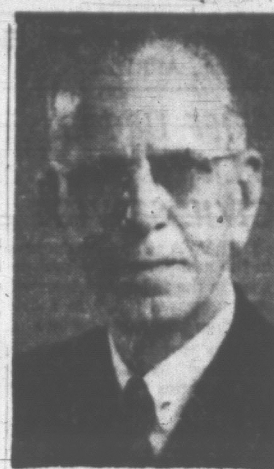

QUEBEC (CP) — Frogman Louis Lormais, 37, pounded into exhaustion and agonizing pain, completed a five-stage 160-mile swim to Quebec City from Montreal Tuesday night with his wife at his side for the final 12 miles.

A crowd of 2,000 watched as the Frenchman was hauled from the icy St. Lawrence River after a five-day ordeal and taken to hospital for observation.

His lips were swollen so large he was unable to speak, his eyes were puffed to slits and the continuous chafing of his rubber frogman's suit had given him severe body pains.

FORCED HALTS

Lormais slipped into the river at Montreal Friday and had hoped to swim down the river non-stop with the aid of tides. But strong winds, blinding sunshine and temperatures hovering around freezing forced him to make five stops.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan has been outfitted with a new head to make him look older.

The old one on the Macmillan statue at Tussaud's Wax Works has been doing duty since 1951. Bernard Tussaud told a reporter:

"The prime minister has aged since 1951. Today there is a remote look in his eyes which betrays the heavy burden of responsibility he carries."

The new head also has more grey hairs and wrinkles.

More Money For Tourism In Jet Age

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau Monday asked Saanich Council for a grant of $2,000 for tourist work during 1959.

Last year the bureau received $1,200.

The request was referred to the finance committee for consideration.

George Warren, publicity commissioner, said the money was needed to meet increased cost of operations.

He said competition between nations for the tourist dollar is increasing.

"With the advent of the jet age and the increase of services by all airline companies, we find that practically every section of the world is now competing for the visitor dollar," he said.

"It is now more than ever important," he added, "that we should carry on an aggressive campaign to compete with such areas as Hawaii, Florida, Southern California, Mexico, South America and Europe."

East bound trans-Atlantic flights are faster than west-bound because of the prevailing winds from the west.

Convicts Just Bluffing, Hostage Asks Leniency

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Two small-time burglars who escaped from San Quentin Prison and held a woman hostage at knifepoint for six hours say they were bluffing. "We really didn't want no hostage, just a car to get away," said Billy Joe Wright, 26.

Auburn-haired Mrs. Louise Gschwend, 54, agreed. "I hope these boys get a break," she declared. "They didn't hurt me. They gave me a break."

"I don't think they ever would have killed me," she added.

At the beginning of the ordeal Tuesday, she continued, "I was scared. I felt sick and I was faint. When I almost fainted, one of the boys wrapped my coat around me."

The trusty who did that was William D. Werner, 24.

TRAPPED ON PIER
They broke away from work parties outside the huge prison 20 miles north of San Francisco. Failing to find a car, they ran down the half-mile-long wharf that juts into San Francisco Bay near the prison entrance.

Mrs. Gschwend, a beauty parlor operator, was fishing there with Doug Harrison, 62, a hotelman and friend of 35 years. Her husband, Walter, was working as a hotel bellman. All five in San Francisco.

Harrison recalled that "Louise let out a scream and I saw they had a knife at her neck."

He added that Wright "told officers 'don't come any closer or I'll kill her' but I think they were just bluffing all the time."

Wright and Werner, with Harrison carrying messages between them and the guards, demanded a speedboat with plenty of gasoline and, at another time, the keys to Mrs. Gschwend's car and a half hour's start.

WONT PROSECUTE
The prisoners gave up when Marin County prosecutor William Weissich promised not to prosecute them for escaping and they were given a chance to tell their grievances to newspapermen.

Wright was asked what he would have done if guards had rushed the end of the pier. "We would just have given up," he replied. "We didn't want to harm them people."

PARKS GROUP FAVORS GOLF IN LAKE AREA

Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee Tuesday went on record as favoring development of a golf course at Beaver-Elk Lake.

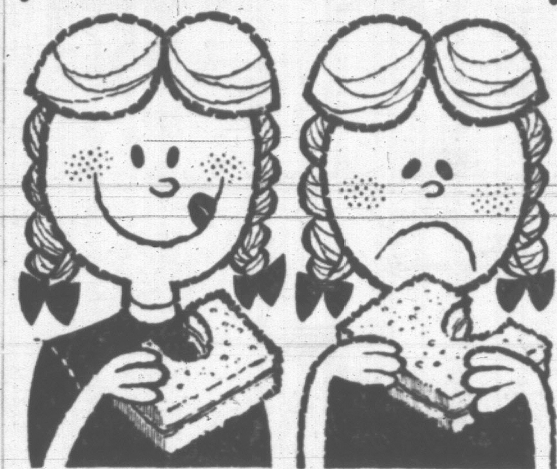

The committee did not commit itself to establishing a course through public or private development.

"We just say that would be a good use for the land," said Reeve George Chatterton, who suggested the action. "How it comes, we don't say."

A number of persons are understood to be interested in establishing a course at the park.

Area designated as suitable for a course is west of Patricia Bay Highway between the Beaver Lake entrance and an extension of Clapmont.

Scouts Plan Camp Barnard Work Party

A work party to carry out repairs to Camp Barnard for the summer camping season is being organized by the camp committee of the Boy Scout Association, Victoria district.

The work bee will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Camp committee chairman M. H. Mooney said seven Scout troops and three Cub packs have used Camp Barnard facilities from March 1 to April 18.

A total of 199 boys put in 363 camping days during this period, he said.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Decline at Toronto In Light Trading

Industrials gave up all their early gains as the Toronto stock market was down today in light mid-afternoon trading.

Western oils, off most of the session, recovered for a small gain. Base metals and golds were off.

The New York market backed away from record levels in late trading today. American Telephone wilted about six points. Chemicals was a strong point although Union Carbide dropped a point.

AT TORONTO western oils recovered as Calgary and Edmonton gained 1/2 at 30 and Home B and Hudson's Bay added small fractions. Canadian Eagle Oil was a standout, up 3/4 at 11 1/4.

Among industrials Moore Corp. added 2 as it touched a 1959 peak of 115.

Uranium and coppers were weak among mines. Gunner was off 1/2 at 13 1/2 and Consolidated Denison was off 1/4 at 14 1/2.

In golds McIntyre lost 1/2 at 8 1/2, but Kerr-Addison was up 1/4 at 19.

AT NEW YORK Canadian Pacific and Walker Gooderham were off 1/2. International Nickel 1/2. Aluminum Ltd. and Granby Mining 1/2. Distillers Seagrams gained 1/2.

On the American stock exchange Brazilian Traction lost 1/2, Molybdenite 1/16. Fargo Oil gained 3/16.

AT MONTREAL industrial prices remained about mixed today on the stock exchange. Turnover was moderately active.

AT LONDON the stock market made an irregular showing again today. The undertone, however, remained firm.

Gilt-edged securities maintained Tuesday's better trend and showed further widespread small gains in response to small investment buying.

WHAT DO YOU SEE, NORM?

Lacrosse League club can win trophy in second annual Shrine Game at Memorial Arena next Wednesday. He would also like to know how Rocks will fare in his first coaching season. (Times Photo.)

Bigger Load for Rookies As Rocks Lose Landess

Coach Norm Baker is hoping a bright crop of rookies will give Victoria Shamrocks greater strength in the Inter-city Lacrosse League wars this season, but the youngsters may have to carry a bigger load than expected.

Baker, who has been impressed during pre-season workouts with the potential of players moving up from junior and juvenile ranks, learned Tuesday that the Rocks will have to operate without another of their veteran stars.

Defenceman Lew Landess, owning the experience often needed to steady youngsters through the early part of a season, said Tuesday that he definitely would not be returning for another season.

However, the Rocks, who are still hoping to acquire the services of Toronto hockey star Bob Pulford for at least part of the season, may yet be able to sign forward Pee-wee Bradshaw.

Bradshaw, who collected 46 goals and 53 assists while operating on a line with Jack Bionda two years ago but accounted for only 52 points for the Rocks last season, applied for a transfer to Nanaimo this year.

The application was turned down by the league commission and Shamrock manager Harry Irwin has reopened negotiations with Bradshaw, who plans to perform in the city center "CB" loop, unless the Irish are willing to grant him a release at the end of this season.

Bradshaw's return would be welcomed by Baker, since the chunky forward's scoring ability and experience could help the rookies over some rough spots.

Baker, who gets his first look at the Irish under battle conditions in the second annual Shrine game against Nanaimo Labatts at Memorial Arena next Wednesday, has decided on only one forward line.

"KID LINE" SET
He plans to start the season with a "kid line" of Tom Collett, Jackie Wilson and Jim McNeill and to assemble his other two attacking units from Bert Bortola, Ron Jay, Jim McNulty, Al Gill, Whitey Severn and Tommy Wyatt.

Possible additions to the Irish rookie ranks after the season opens are Tom English, Bob McKee, Stew Smith and Phil Willis, who are presently writing examinations at University of British Columbia.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Rolando (Chico) Morales, 136, Havana, out-punched the Vaughns, 138, Cincinnati 10.

They forgot you knocked out Archie Moore to win your championship. They neglect to mention that Hurricane Jackson was made the number-one contender by valid magistrates. They deface your reputation by remembering that Rademacher knocked you down and so did Roy Harris, a pug whose only talent is gameness.

Not all of it is D'Amato's fault. He refused to go along with the IBC policy. He ducked their house pugs. It is his just contention they depleted the fight racket with their cheap television shows. Guys with underworld connections always seemed to get the profitable dates. Managers with integrity were forced out of the fight racket. But he substantiated the untruths about you when he picked London to be your stooge.

The people who run the fight racket in England denounced the London match. Maybe, they were influenced by Jack Solomons, the British promoter, who is allied with the IBC. But their protest is valid. He is a disgraceful opponent. They remember Rademacher. Even you must be embarrassed by it. Winners fought champions in the old times, never losers. And London recently was beaten by Henry Cooper. Such a match must further blemish your prestige.

D'Amato Has Had To Use All Angles
It is as if you and London were actors in a travelling troupe. The promoter has been chosen by D'Amato. Your attorney met London at the plane and spoke for him. Although your manager said he was fighting for all the people in boxing the impresarios he selected are from other fields. Bill Rosensohn, who is putting on the Johanssen fight, is a television salesman. Rhodes is in the steel business. Emil Lence, who ran the second Jackson fight, is a dressmaker.

D'Amato split with Lence and Teddy Brenner who made your early fights. There is friction between Rosensohn and D'Amato. Guys in the fight racket insist that D'Amato intends to take over and operate the racket by himself.

You're a decent kid with a desire to be a great fighter. But your big purse has been ridiculed. D'Amato had to use all the angles in his fight with the IBC. But he is a manager and can be the agent for many pugs after you're through. You have only one career. You're Floyd Patterson who is being angled into oblivion.

DOUG FEEDEN, Sports Editor

10 Victoria Daily Times WED., APRIL 22, 1959

SPORTS DIARY BY Jimmy Cannon

You're Floyd Patterson who is being angled into oblivion. Your manager, Cus D'Amato, is an honest man. You get all the money that's coming to you. But, because the dream of what a champion should be is still clear in you, that isn't enough. You demand recognition as the great fighter you may be. Instead, you have become a national joke.

Your talent is demeaned. People still ask if you can fight and you're the heavyweight champion of the world. Your skit with Brian London, booked for May 1 in Indianapolis, has been arranged as if it were an alley craps game. Terms for the television contract are still being negotiated at the offices of the National Broadcasting Company.

The enemies your manager made persecute you with satire. Even those who were D'Amato's allies in his crusade against the International Boxing Club are becoming bored with his comical secrecy. He is slowly wearing out all those who believed his rages against the monopoly were accurate.

The promoter, Cecil Rhodes, originally announced the fight would be held in Las Vegas. He mentioned that Beldon Kattelman, owner of El Rancho Vegas, would be interested in it. After reading this in the papers, Kattelman called an associate in New York for information about Rhodes. He said the man telephoned him and identified himself as a guy who had been introduced to him by Joe E. Lewis, the comedian.

Win Over Rocky Would Have Helped

You're entitled to a get-ready fight before you take Ingemar Johanssen in New York in June. But the circumstances of your past demand careful security of every match. You would fight any one. You grieve because you never hooked Rocky Marciano. You believe you would have established yourself as a great champion by beating him.

But you are regarded with skepticism because you knocked out Pete Rademacher, an amateur who never fought for profit until he met you. It is difficult to convince even neutral spectators that you can handle your stiff. They accept the London gag as proof of their theory.

They forgot you knocked out Archie Moore to win your championship. They neglect to mention that Hurricane Jackson was made the number-one contender by valid magistrates. They deface your reputation by remembering that Rademacher knocked you down and so did Roy Harris, a pug whose only talent is gameness.

It is as if you and London were actors in a travelling troupe. The promoter has been chosen by D'Amato. Your attorney met London at the plane and spoke for him. Although your manager said he was fighting for all the people in boxing the impresarios he selected are from other fields. Bill Rosensohn, who is putting on the Johanssen fight, is a television salesman. Rhodes is in the steel business. Emil Lence, who ran the second Jackson fight, is a dressmaker.

D'Amato split with Lence and Teddy Brenner who made your early fights. There is friction between Rosensohn and D'Amato. Guys in the fight racket insist that D'Amato intends to take over and operate the racket by himself.

You're a decent kid with a desire to be a great fighter. But your big purse has been ridiculed. D'Amato had to use all the angles in his fight with the IBC. But he is a manager and can be the agent for many pugs after you're through. You have only one career. You're Floyd Patterson who is being angled into oblivion.

Piggott Changes Mind To Let WHL Stand Pat

Agrees to Operate Team At Saskatoon This Year

(From CP Reports)
SEATTLE—Jim Piggott, owner of the Saskatoon Quakers, has agreed to change his mind and the Western Hockey League will stand pat for the 1959-60 season. But there seems little doubt that there will be some changes in league alignment next year.

The stand-pat decision was reached at the annual WHL meeting here Tuesday, after the two-day session had bounced in and out of confusion. Indications made it obvious that San Francisco, Portland and Los Angeles will own league franchises one year hence.

The decision to continue with the same nine-club setup was made possible only because Piggott agreed to operate in Saskatoon for another season. Before Tuesday's session, when it was already apparent that the planned shift of two franchises to California would not be feasible this year, he said he would suspend operations rather than keep his club in Saskatoon, where it has been a losing venture.

He had hoped to move his franchise to Los Angeles, but when the move was set back for one year, yielded to the wishes of other club owners and agreed they continue at Saskatoon in order to keep the league at its present numerical strength.

Player Limit Up, Rookie Rule Out

These moves are not finally settled but directors of the league expressed confidence they will come about at next year's annual meeting, bringing in the new 16,000-seat Coliseum in Los Angeles, the 15,000-seat Cow Palace in San Francisco and a new 12,000-seat building in Portland.

The meeting approved for the coming season:

Will Not Be Blinded By Bright Start

Never break up a winning combination, they say. Willie Hamilton is going to go along with this bit of advice from the coaches' manual, even though he thinks a change might improve the efficiency of his Pacific Coast Soccer League squad.

Aspirin Supply Should Be Good At Tee Tourney

Members of the medical and drug professions are expected to have their usual quota of fairway headaches when they hold their annual tee tourney Thursday at Royal Colwood Golf Club, St. John's.

LABATTS ON HAND

Willie wants to see marked improvement this Saturday when Evcoes tackle Vancouver Labatts (nee St. Andrew's). This Saturday's fifth feature at Macdonald Park starts at 2:30.

"A half-way effort was good enough to win over Hales," said Hamilton. "But it's not going to beat many teams or win many games over the length of the season, particularly teams of the calibre of Labatts."

The Vancouver side will be travelling with a strong, experienced side Saturday, boasting among their number Canadian all-star halfback, Doug Greig, former Glasgow Ranger Joe Johnson, and former English league professional John Halley.

To Meet Queen

MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard, hockey's fabulous record maker, and Mrs. Richard today were invited to have dinner with the Queen and Prince Philip at Government House in Ottawa Dominion Day, July 1.

McCOY AGREES TO TITLE DEFENCE ... AT ARENA MAY 2

Tyro Promoter Still Pushing

Johnny Reddin is a determined young man, convinced that Victoria wants another professional boxing show. The novice promoter, who enjoyed some measure of success when he featured light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore on a pro card several weeks ago, Tuesday booked Memorial Arena for a second fight program.

SUGAR RAY HITS DECK AFTER COURT'S RULING

NEW YORK (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Saul Streit today directed middleweight boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson to agree to defend his title against Carmen Basilio within 15 days or face loss of his crown.

The court upheld the power of the New York State Athletic Commission to choose the challenger for a championship bout and to fix the date.

Robinson hasn't fought since he regained the title by outpointing Basilio at Chicago, March 25, 1958.

OPEN HOUSE SET FOR SATURDAY

Aerial Truck for 21st Birthday Given Oak Bay Fire Department

By AB KENT
Oak Bay fire department comes of age today, and to make sure its 21st birthday will be noticed, it has given itself a gleaming, built-to-order midget aerial truck.

The new apparatus, delivered last month and in service since, will be highlight of a dedication-open house gathering of Reeve Geo. Murdoch, councillors and citizens at the fire hall at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Although shorter and stockier-looking than the average aerial truck—built that way to make negotiation of twisting Oak Bay streets easier—the machine is capable of a full-size job.

It has special power attachments for high-pressure fog and winding up 1½-inch hose reels, 300-gallon capacity water tank and hose-carrying space.

Use of the hydraulically-operated ladder and the high-pressure nozzle will be demonstrated to the public.

One of the department's first pumps, a Bickle-Seagrave product, is still in service, housed in the original firehall, an attractive brick and stucco building with a Tudor finish.

ORIGINALS

Among the original members of the force still on the job are Fire-Chief William Pearson, assistant Chief Harry Bates and Fireman Ronald Coleman.

There were nine men in the department in 1938, including a nucleus of two men from Victoria's fire department, the late Oak Bay chief, E. G. Clayards, and today's fire chief at Powell River, Jack Newell.

Other ex-firemen are Gordon Lay, chief of HMC Dockyard fire department at Halifax, and Norman Stewardson, who holds the same rank for the naval fire service at Ottawa.

Both left Oak Bay during the Second-World War.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

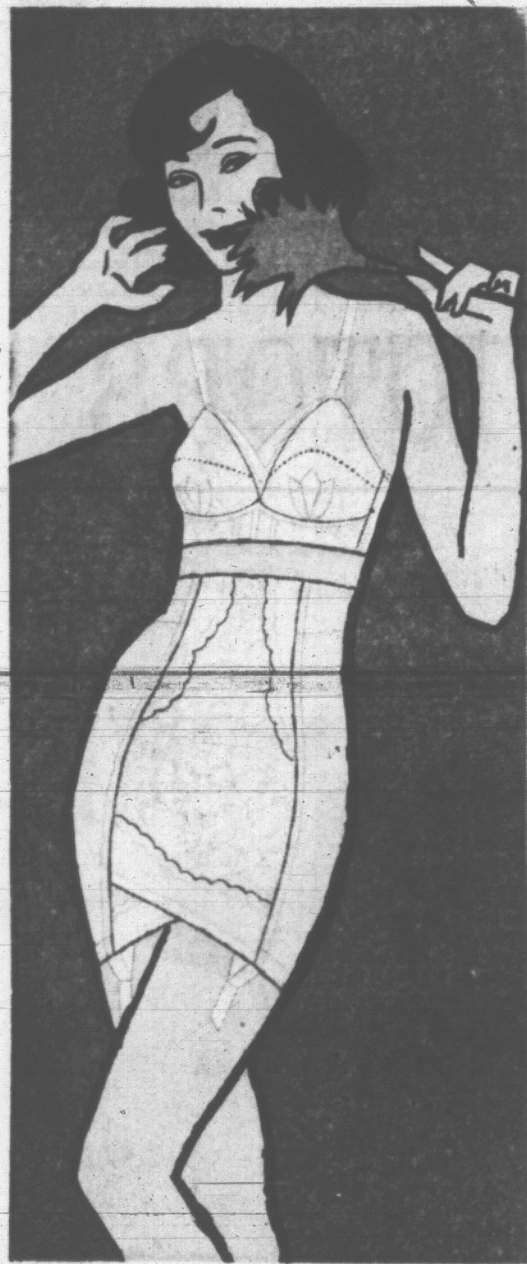

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat... actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat... unblocks it... for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat. Only 43¢.

WINNER of the solo Highland competition (under 12) at the recent Upper Island Musical Festival at Nanaimo is Gloria Smith of 301 Fort Street. Gloria was also awarded a bursary for her display of potential talent.

It is estimated that between 500,000 and 1,000,000 scientific articles are published each year in languages other than English.

New Tourist Group To Merge Planning

An organization to co-ordinate, plan, investigate and guide the visitor industry in Greater Victoria is now in the early stages of formation.

It will be composed of representatives of all existing tourist bodies in the area.

Founder of the new organization is Cy Porter, assistant commissioner at Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. It will be discussed at a meeting of Victoria Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group at the Olde England Inn this evening.

It is expected that a full slate of officers will be elected at this meeting.

OVER-ALL PLANNING

"There is a need for over-all planning and guidance of the visitor industry here," Mr. Porter said today, "and I believe this organization will answer our needs for 10 years to come."

The council's principal aim would be to represent itself as one specialized co-ordinating organization dealing solely with tourism in the Greater Victoria area.

"It will speak for the visitor industry as a whole," Mr. Porter said.

YEAR-ROUND

One of the aims of the new organization will be to develop year-round visitor entertainment in Victoria.

"At present," Mr. Porter said, "no such guidance or follow-up exists and many a project never gets beyond the idea stage, or at best begins modestly and then fails the following year."

$3,000 DAILY GIVEN TO JUBILEE CAMPAIGN

An average of $3,000 is being contributed daily through the mail to the Royal Jubilee Hospital Building Fund campaign, officials said Tuesday.

The fund has reached the $280,000 mark, leaving $130,000 to be collected by April 30.

The fund, along with $2,000,000 in government grants, will be used to build a four-storey wing to improve the hospital's facilities.

CLAIM FILED BY SMITH ON PARKING

A statement of claim was filed Tuesday afternoon by Victoria M.L.A. J. Donald Smith in his civil action against the $1,000,000 parking bylaw.

Mr. Smith, seeking a judgment voiding the project, alleges the bylaw is vague, contrary to the Municipal Act, was advertised with misleading statements and not properly passed.

The City Hall has 10 days in which to file a statement of defence.

Modern Light, Signal Standard Tested by City

A modern light and traffic signal standard, jointly designed by city and Yarrows Ltd. staffs, will be tried out at Belleville and Douglas.

If council likes the results, the standard would be used for supplementary installations in the downtown area.

"But we're not advocating the removal of the cluster lights," emphasized city engineer James Garnett.

If some Victorians had their way, this capital would combine the Alps, London's police, a colony for water nymphs and Europe's beer gardens.

These are among suggestions forwarded in the Chamber of Commerce questionnaire contest on how to attract more tourists to Victoria.

Ideas received so far are that there should be a chairlift on the nearest snow-covered mountain; policemen should wear "bobby" helmets; there should be five or six heated swimming pools, and there should be "beer gardens" along the streets.

Suggestions received would also take emphasis off tea and crumpets and eliminate "caterwauling" bagpipes.

One reply said it would be appreciated if restaurant janitors would not sweep floors while patrons are eating.

So far, entrants have unanimously favored retention of the "olde England" atmosphere in tourist advertising, but as one suggested "without ridicule of ourselves. There is nothing wrong with the Old World charm."

Other suggestions included construction of an aquarium and renewed emphasis on creating beautiful private gardens.

There is a $50 prize for the best answers to six questions. These questions are obtainable at the Chamber office, Wharf Street, and deadline is April 30.

"BRAW" MEN FROM DUNDEE, SCOTLAND, have their own "brand" of beards. On one-day stopover in Victoria after two years on Mid-Canada warning line north of Edmonton are Thomas Brand, 29 (left) and brother Bob Brand, 25. Beards are, respectively, five and seven months old; both mustache portions measure over 8½ inches. Tom worked as electrician in North, Bob in control centre. They are flying home via Polar route Friday and intend to start "wee" business in Bonnie Dundee, after making stake in Canada wilds. (Times Photo.)

WE INTERRUPT THIS PROGRAM TO—BOINNNING!

Well, the woodpecker got a fright anyway.

But so did Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, former army officer, who still likes to have some target practice occasionally.

The woodpecker kept the Edgelow family awake each dawn as it loudly hammered at the television aerial.

Finally, sleepy and red-eyed one morning, Ald. Edgelow decided that peace would be returned to his Thetis Lake ranch-at-all-costs.

He picked up a .22 rifle with a telescopic sight, aimed at the bird and fired—then watched thunderstruck as the TV aerial toppled over and the woodpecker winged away.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Saanich police court Tuesday:

Eric G. Carlsen, 3376 Whittier, $35; David A. Lamont, 3000 Tillium, $40 and restricted to business driving only for one month, for careless driving.

James F. Friedlander, 248 Caldecote, $10 for failing to notify Motor Vehicles Branch of a change of address.

Donald Wilfred Rhyman, 833 Leslie, $10 for failing to yield right of way.

Kenneth M. Leibel, 236 Crease, $25 and restricted to business driving only for one month, for speeding over 30.

In city police court Monday: David L. Laws, 184 Joseph, $35 and restricted to business driving only for one month, and James William Mundle, 2575 Queenston, $35, for careless driving.

In city police court Tuesday: Peter Stanley Dixon, 2017 Quadra, $25 and one month licence suspension for speeding over 30.

Pietro Pinesse, 754 Kings, $15 for driving with one headlight.

Wilfred Jones, 2646 Chambers, $35; Harold Foxcroft, 1114 Richardson, $35 and one month licence suspension for careless driving.

John W. Lang, 2114 Oregon, $30 for speeding over 30.

Lloyd Radomeke, 1601 Esquimalt, $15 for failing to stop at a stop sign and $15 for driving with inadequate brakes.

GREATER VICTORIA MUSIC FESTIVAL

Red-Letter Days Here For Hordes of Children

By AUDREY JOHNSON

Maybe, for the average Mr. and Mrs. Victoria, today and Tuesday were just two ordinary mid-week working days with no special significance at all.

But for hundreds of school children, parents and teachers they were and are, two of the red-letter days in the whole school year. Tomorrow and Friday will be two more.

In fact there will be nine of them altogether, for this is the period of the 1959 Greater Victoria Music Festival which opened Tuesday morning at 9 in two centres—St. Andrew's Auditorium and Central Junior High School auditorium.

USED CAR? MORRISON

CHEVROLET - OLDSMOBILE
Sales at Quadra

Sessions continued today in both places and at Central Junior High tonight, the first of the major evening programs will take place.

This will be the folk dance concert when top-ranking performances from the two days' classes, as selected by adjudicator Mrs. Peggy MacFarlane, will be seen in their winning numbers. In addition there will be competition in the Senior High School square dance class, between Victoria and Mount View High groups and in an open class between Mount View Alumni and the Sons of Norway.

Opening two days of the festival were more than ordinarily successful from all points of view, including that of attendance.

HIGHER STANDARDS
Adjudicator Mrs. MacFarlane found, at her fifth visit to the Victoria festival, that standards were higher than ever and emphasized that the folk dancing section was outstanding in the over-all B.C. dance picture.

Glyndwr Jones, adjudicating all vocal and choral classes this year, was also delighted with the singing of youthful choirs all the way from Grade 1 to junior high school level. He found a stimulating improvement in general, since his last visit in 1955.

Detailed results for the two days up to press time, follows:

Folk Dance Classes—Grade 4—Totmie School, 57; Oaklands, 57; Grade 5—Willows, 51; Sir James Douglas, 51; Quadra, 50; Salt Spring Island and Burnside Schools (tie), 50.

Grades 5 and 6 (girls only)—Monterey (2), 50; McKenzie Avenue and Monterey Schools (tie), 50; Cloverdale, 57; Grade 6—Frank Hobbs and Burnside Schools (tie), 50; Salt Spring and Monterey (tie), 50; North Ward, 50.

Grades 7 and 8—Creative Dance—Doncaster School (two teams), 50 marks each. Junior High School—Salt Spring, 58; Senior High School—Mount View and Salt Spring (tie), 52.

Grades 7 and 8—Victoria West, 58; Grades 7 and 8—Square Dance—Victoria West, 50.

Fourteen Years and Under (Private Schools)—Adeline Duncan Dancers and Catherine Costain School (2), 50; Catherine Costain School, 50.

School Chorus: Grade 5—Oaklands School, 165; Monterey and Cloverdale, 165; Willows and Margaret Jenkins, 164; Grade 6—Jimmy Crockett Kindergarten, 166; Craigflower School, 165; Private Schools (20 voices and over)—St. Margaret's School, 165.

Junior High Schools Boys' Choir—Lansdowne Junior High, 168; Junior High Schools, Mixed Voices—Colquitz Junior High, 165; Junior High Girls' Choir—Central, 173; Lansdowne, 172; Grade 4—St. Ann's Academy, 174; Totmie School, 172.

Choral Group At Oak Bay Tonight

Making his first appearance before a Victoria audience in the role of conductor, Stanley Hoban will mount the podium tonight to lead Victoria Choral Society in its first public concert since former conductor Graham Steed left the city.

With Richard Proudman as accompanist, the choir will sing a program of folk songs, spirituals and other numbers at Oak Bay Junior High School, beginning at 8.15.

Featured as assisting artists will be the duo piano team of Malcolm Hamilton and Mr. Proudman.

As Mr. Hamilton is soon to leave the city to take up a fellowship at University of Washington, this will possibly be his last public appearance in Victoria for a considerable time.

Vocal soloist Timothy Vernon will sing the boy soprano numbers, "Hear My Prayer" and "O For the Wings of a Dove," with choral accompaniment.

Solos in two of the spirituals will be taken by soprano Eileen Paul and Mr. Hoban.

LIVE WITH YOUR NERVES

an get violently ill on finding an inch-worm in her salad.
Once, within a few weeks' time, three women came to me complaining of a supposedly allergic swelling and inflammation of their eyelids. I found that one had gotten her trouble when she tried to talk her unloved husband into letting her divorce him and he had refused to let her go; the second, a recently remarried widow, had had her face break out when, on her honeymoon, her bridegroom admitted that he was a good-for-nothing who had married her only for her money.
And the third had her eyes swell closed when the man whom she was about to marry tried to back out.
In trying to explain to people how our brains can easily disturb the functions of our several body organs, I remind them of the way in which a fearful nightmare can cause us to wake out of sleep with the heart racing and pounding, as if it were trying to shake itself out of our chest.
I'll never forget when, during the terrible influenza epidemic in 1918, my little daughter of five came down with the type of toxic pneumonia which was then killing children within two or three days. I was so frightened that I got a severe pain in my stomach. It seemed as if someone were trying to twist it in two.

Genuine Pain
I suffered with this pain until a few days later, the child showed that she could weather the storm. As I say to nervous patients when I tell this story, there was no question about the genuineness of that pain; it was severe enough to keep me from eating and sleeping.

Burglars Hit City Cafe, Lumber Firm
An unspecified amount of cash and cigarettes was stolen by someone who broke into the Net Loft Restaurant, 640 Montreal, Monday night.
Entry was by way of a window, and although a liquor room was forced open, no liquor was missing.
The money and cigarettes were taken from a vending machine.
A "poor attempt" was made to crack a safe at Doman's Lumber, 285 Bay, at the weekend, city police were told Monday.
The safe had been attacked after entry was gained by forcing rear door, but although the burglar patiently hack-sawed a hinge pin from the steel door—which police said must have taken considerable time—the safe was not opened and nothing was reported missing.

Any consultant in medicine who specializes in diagnosis must often be deeply impressed with the number of nervous persons he sees whose psychic problem was repeatedly missed by their physicians.

Today, modern medicine is wonderful in what it can accomplish. Remarkable diagnoses of organic disease are being made; surgeons are operating on the heart; they are taking tumors out of the lung and the brain; they are cutting out, damaged segments of arteries, and repairing the defect with a graft; and they are putting in new hip joints made out of metal or a plastic. People whose flow of urine stops are being saved by being hooked up for a while to an artificial kidney. People with rapidly spreading infections are being cured by antibiotics, and so many persons with tuberculosis are being cured with new drugs that a number of formerly crowded sanatoria have now closed their doors.

Too Impressed
The advances I have just described are wonderful, but in one field of medicine the progress is still much too slow. This is the field of nervous and mental diseases, and "non-convulsive epilepsy."
Our trouble has been that we physicians have become so impressed with the great achievements in diagnosis resulting from the use of extensive medical overhauls with laboratory and X-ray studies that we have tended to depend on others besides ourselves for a ready-made diagnosis.
Hence, we have spent less and less time looking at the patient, questioning him, and listening to what he has to say. Some very busy physicians allow only 10 minutes to a patient. No doctor can do anything in 10 minutes for a person who feels all mixed-up, is full of fears and worries, and is much in need of talking to someone with a sympathetic ear.
(Copyright 1958 by Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, and published by Prentice-Hall, Inc.)

THURSDAY: Dr. Alvarez explains the difference between organic and functional disease and tells how you may have a pain in the stomach when the cause is in the brain.

HEALTH AND VIVACIOUSNESS are reflected in the faces of these members of the Danish Gym Team which performed at Memorial Arena Tuesday. The

2,500 SEE EYE-POPPING GYMNASTIC DISPLAY

Great Danes Make It Look Easy

By HUMPHRY DAVY
Physical "jerks" can be an enjoyable uplifting sport.
A visiting gym team from Denmark proved this to more than 2,500 spectators at the Memorial Arena Tuesday.
The 24-member Danish Gym Team staged a demonstration of physical exercises which enthralled the large audience.
The show was a smash hit from the start to finish.
Simple exercises such as "touch your toes" and "hands on hips and knees bend" became movements of grace and beauty.
Tumbling exercises became symbols of strength, dexterity and perfect body balance.

'Ballet Dancers'

"They look like ballet dancers," commented one spectator as she watched a group of 12 girls perform a series of fundamental exercises.

"I never saw a group of men and women do exercises with such ease," said another.
This was the general reaction of the audience, which included many high school students and younger children.

Sponsored by the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, the Danish team of men and women are between the ages of 19 and 28. They are all amateurs—mechanists, farmers, office workers, interior decorators—representing all walks of life.

The team is on a nine-month tour of the United States and Canada, to show people that gymnastics can be as interesting a sport as hockey and football.

5,000 Clubs

Poul Clausen, managing director of the team, explained that there are some 5,000 gymnastic clubs in Denmark for people ranging between the ages of five and 70 years.

"During the winter months it is one of our main sports," he said.

Mr. Clausen's observation on the physical fitness of Canadians and Americans was not too flattering. He thought a big proportion of the North American population needed more exercise, including children.

He said schools could do more to teach physical education.

"You have some top-flight gymnasts in North America," he said. "But the people who take an interest in physical education are only a few. The people who need it most don't participate in healthy recreation."

At last night's show, members of the Danish team were divided into two groups—men and women, who each performed fundamental gymnastics—the common exercises taught in schools and YMCA's. There was no attempt to appeal to the audience through spectacular feats.

The female team specialized in rhythmic gymnastics. Women in Denmark are fond of doing their exercises in this way. The exercises are carried out in complete rhythm and harmony with music.

The men's team excelled in tumbling and work in the stall bars. Their poise and bodily co-ordination on the "high horse" were amazing.

As a side attraction, the team dressed in colorful native costumes and demonstrated some Danish folk and courtesy dances.

The entire performance

was accompanied by music played by Ingrid Elizabeth Nielsen, an accomplished pianist.

The women's team was under the direction of Inger Riis Laursen, who has taken part in many tours in Commonwealth countries.

132 Shows

Miss Laursen said her team was not performing any unusual or difficult exercises.

"There are thousands of Danish women who can do the same," she said. "It's easy and any girl can learn to do the same."

Miss Laursen said the team was beginning to feel a "wee bit tired" as they had staged 132 shows in the United States. They appear at Bellingham and Vancouver later this week.

The team arrived Tuesday and stayed over-night at the homes of Danish Canadians.

They took the day off today and were taken on a tour of Victoria and the Saanich Peninsula. Tonight they will be entertained at Norway House by members of the Danish community. They leave Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mogens Nielsen, 3292 Tennyson, made arrangements for their entertainment in Victoria.

Raging Flames 'Scalp' Woman

Stopped Breathing At Time of Rescue

A 38-year-old Bay Street woman dragged from her blazing four-room bungalow by a city fireman late Tuesday afternoon is in "satisfactory" condition with serious burns at Jubilee Hospital today.

Quick-Hitting 'Flu Bug Here But It's Mild

Victoria has escaped the deadly Asian 'flu which has caused seven deaths in Winnipeg this year.

A mild three-day 'flu, which strikes quickly, is reported in many parts of the city now, but it is not serious enough to cause any alarm either to the hospitals or the city health department.

"We have had no serious cases of influenza this winter," a spokesman for the Royal Jubilee Hospital said today.

"And the quick 'flu has been mainly confined to students and nurses."

In Winnipeg the 'flu virus has been positively identified as a recurrence of the Asian 'flu which killed more than 125 Canadians in 1957. The seventh victim of the current outbreak was Mrs. Glen Gladu, 25-year-old mother of four children.

However, the Winnipeg outbreak is definitely on the wane and there is no cause for alarm, the city's health authority said.

Crown Appeal Dismissed In City Case

The crown's appeal from the acquittal by Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes at Victoria of David William Hargrave, Thomas A. McNaughton and Kenneth Wallden was dismissed in Vancouver Tuesday.

The trio was charged with breaking and entering Spencer's Stores Limited at Victoria, June 15, 1958, when a safe was robbed of about $3,500.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Fortune, Cowichan return June 10.

City to See Aerobatics In August

RCAF Golden Hawks, aerobatic team formed this year, and set to give 36 exhibitions this year, will be in Victoria skies Aug. 23.

Flying Sabre jets with a red hawk's head on each fuselage, they will appear at air shows and Air Force Day celebrations.

The team is made up of eight RCAF flight instructors, led by Sqdn. Ldr. Fern Villeneuve, 31, of Ottawa.

The 25-minute sequence of manoeuvres arranged by the team will be televised from the Air Force Day celebration at Ottawa June 6.

They will appear at the B.C. Air Show in Vancouver July 11-12, and will be at Comox Aug. 22 for the Air Force Day observance there. After the Victoria show Aug. 23 they will rest until their appearances at Vancouver's PNE from Aug. 31 to Sept. 5.

Death Car Steering 'Shimmied'

Faulty steering may have caused the fatal crash of a car driven on the Malahat March 22 by Francis Gilbert, 19, of 1250 Palmer, a preliminary hearing was told Tuesday.

Gilbert, who is charged with criminally negligent driving in connection with the death of a 17-year-old passenger, Linda Henly, 1722 Jay, was committed for trial in a higher court at conclusion of the hearing in Colwood RCMP court.

Gilbert's car, with five other teen-aged passengers, was one of three which had taken a crowd of young people to a beach party at Shawnigan Lake, and was on the return trip to Victoria when the accident occurred.

PASSING

One occupant of Gilbert's car, James McMaster, said the vehicle swerved to the left to pass a leading car at Tunnel Hill, then swerved to the right, when he "saw the rock wall coming."

The car struck the wall and overturned, injuring all occupants, Gilbert only slightly.

McMaster said Gilbert's car was going about 70 miles an hour while passing the first car. He added he had noticed a slight shimmy in the car on the way to the lake, and the vehicle seemed not to respond properly to steering.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Chan Sue Kee, 958 Mason, $40 for failing to yield right of way to a pedestrian in a crosswalk.

William R. Henly, 1143 Chapman, $40 for failing to remain at the scene of an accident and $35 and licence suspension for careless driving.

Uwe Schroeder, 1042 Southgate, $35 for careless driving.

Joseph Nagy, 4040 Holland, $25 each on two charges of failing to equip vehicle with current licence plates.

MONTE ROBERTS

I think I have finally latched onto a winning crusade. It is well known to all loyal constituents that this space has indulged in more losing crusades than an electronic computer could compute in a month of Mondays.

Not the least of these losing crusades, in fact possibly the most publicized, was the crusade to SAVE RIPPLE ROCK.

The crusade I have in mind is somewhat similar, except its destiny is success, not failure.

For I propose to ask all constituents to join me in an effort to:

SAVE DAYLIGHT

What better cause could present itself? Is it not true that too much daylight is wasted? That daylight lost is not daylight saved?

Is it not true, in fact, that even the powers-who-be have recognized this fact, and as of next Saturday have decreed daylight must be saved, come high water or what may?

(Yes, it is true, all true.)

Therefore, I feel I am on safe ground when I urge one and all to rally round and

SAVE DAYLIGHT!

The way to do so, is this: Come Saturday midnight. (Or is it 2 a.m. Sunday? Well, anyhow...)

Come Saturday midnight, go to your nearest clock. Walk, don't run, because running might cause a clock in the sock. Once you have arrived at the clock, reach around the back to the little switcheroo kind of thing which controls the hands.

Turn the switcheroo until the hands go right around the clock for 60 full, glorious, fun-packed minutes. These 60 full, glorious, fun-packed minutes will then be cleaned right off the clock.

Thus you will have contributed to the crusade to

SAVE DAYLIGHT

But by all means, join in the crusade to

SAVE DAYLIGHT

After all, the daylight you save may be your own.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

It was "full house plus one" at the Ogden Point deep-sea docks today.

All five regular berths were filled, and a sixth ship was at the Victoria Machinery Depot's outer wharf.

All six are loading lumber.

Canadian Pacific Hotels today requested city council to rezoned property on which its laundry is located, adjacent to the Empress Hotel, in order to allow it to provide laundry service for St. Joseph's Hospital.

The hotel chain said it would handle some of the hospital's needs to offset a 50 per cent drop in its own requirements as a result of the cut-back in the CPR ferry services.

E. F. Wetherston was re-elected president of the Dickens Fellowship Victoria branch at its annual meeting this week.

H. Wakefield Maunsell was re-elected vice-president and Mrs. Dorothy Hewitt White secretary-treasurer. Hostesses during the coming year will be Mrs. Dorothy Bradbury and Mrs. Jervis Reid.

Tentative date for the Fellowship annual garden party has been set for Saturday, July 11.

The Free Food Stall has found a new home. Location of the new premises was withheld pending completion of negotiations later today.

But stall convenor Mrs. E. E. Harper wrote city council saying the charitable organization would be able to move into its new quarters in June. She asked some assurance that the stall would be allowed to operate next month in its present location in the public market building—due to be demolished for a parking lot.

Carrying fishing tackle without a licence cost 18-year-old Robert Patrick Quinn, 4831 West Saanich, a $10 fine when he pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Tuesday.

Game officer Jack Lenfesty said Quinn was with two others in a boat at Prospect Lake, with three fishing rods in the boat.

Robert Heller, 2632 Estevan, was fined a total of $75 in city police court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to five counts of failing to submit sales tax returns for October to February inclusive. Fines were $15 on each count. Heller is proprietor of Central TV Specialists.

Schedules to Get Tricky With Fast Time Next Week

Daylight saving time comes into effect in B.C. and most of the rest of Canada at 2 a.m. Sunday, when clocks are to be advanced one hour.

Some transportation companies will follow fast time; others will stay with standard. Here is the summary:

Remaining on standard time: Canadian National and Canadian Pacific trains and steamships; Washington State Ferries.

Switching to daylight time: All airlines; Vancouver Island Coach Lines; Black Ball Ferries; Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Provincial Labor Progressive Party (Communist) leader Nigel Morgan will address a public meeting at the Williams Building, 749 Broughton Street, on Thursday at 9 p.m.

'Why all the fuss?'

IT'S SPRING Geese Flap Really Only 'Love Play'

A flare-up in the bird world, reported from Fulford Harbor on Salt Spring Island, was dismissed today by Charles Guiguet, Provincial Museum biologist, as being "quite normal."

Observers on the island said they saw a huge V-shaped flight of Canada geese break up, with leaderless geese going off honking in all directions.

It appeared from the ground to be a battle for leadership. "It's a typical goose behavior," Mr. Guiguet said. "They will be flying along in an orderly fashion, then suddenly they all will be doing loops, swirls, and dippy-doodles all over the place."

'LOVE PLAY'

"Some of it is courtship and love play, and some of it is sheer exuberance," he said.

At the same time as the "insurrection" at Fulford, observers noted unusually large numbers of hummingbirds in the vicinity.

This caused speculation on the truth of the belief that hummingbirds and other tiny birds "hitchhike" on their migrations by nesting into the feathers of large birds.

"It's an old, old story, kicked around for a long time but never proved," Mr. Guiguet said. "It comes up periodically."

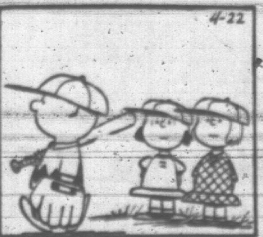

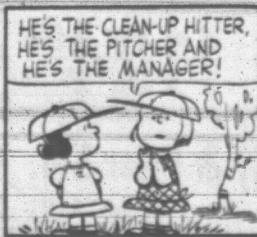

ASK The TIMES

Q — I would like to know where our lieutenant-governor came from in Scotland and when he came to Canada. M.D.

A. He was born on a farm near Glasgow, called Achnahaird Farm, April 14, 1891, and came to Canada in 1910. Mr. Ross' birthplace has been given as Glasgow only because it was the nearest sizeable place to his birthplace.

Q — How old is Arthur Laing, recently retired leader of the B.C. Liberal party. L.H. A.—He's 54.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, enclosed in "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve "problems" or "best" problems. Tea for Leslie Ball Pink and white tulips centred the lace-cloth covered table at a tea given for Miss Leslie Ball at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bayliss recently. Mrs. Gordon F. Grant presided at the tea table and serviteur was Miss Myrna Morris. Guests were received by the bride-elect, Mrs. Harvey Ball, her mother, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. Bayliss.

Gifts were arranged in a pink and white parasol for Miss Ball at a shower given by Mrs. Grant at her Mayfair Drive home. A shower cake with "Best Wishes, Leslie and Dave," centred the refreshment table. It was flanked by spring flowers and candles. A corsage of pink and white rosebuds was presented to Miss Ball. Her mother, Mrs. Ball, and Mrs. Bayliss received corsages of carnations. Mrs. Ball presided at the tea table and Mrs. A. Bagattin served. Invited to the affair were Mrs. A. Cole, Mrs. Gladys Hodgson, Mrs. W. Chisholm, Mrs. J. R. Simpson, Mrs. B. Salsbury, Mrs. A. Webb, Mrs. A. Banks, Mrs. H. Knott and the Misses A. Ball and Myrna Morris.

Honoring Bride-Elect

Miss Brenda Tuckey, who is to be married Friday to Mr. Reg Waggoner, was honored at a shower recently in the Pat Bay highway home of Mrs. F. R. Minter. Corsages of spring flowers were presented the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. F. E. Tuckey, and the groom's mother, Mrs. E. Waggoner. Guests included Mrs. A. Hammond, Mrs. G. Monks, Mrs. M. Sturgeon, Mrs. W. Davis, Mrs. E. Swift and the Misses Jean and Susan Tuckey and Frances, Margaret, Doris and June Minter.

Student Returns

Miss Joan Anderson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson of Valdez Place, returned home today from her studies at the University of British Columbia. Miss Anderson, a second-year student at Varsity, will spend the summer with her parents.

Visiting City

Mr. J. P. Richards, Brampton, Mich., arrived in the city recently to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams at their home on John Street.

GIFT TO QUEEN

Mrs. A. S. Morton said in an interview Tuesday evening that the Canadian Federation of University Women, through its national board, had written to Prime Minister Diefenbaker recently suggesting that Canada's gift to Her Majesty the Queen at the time of the royal visit this summer be in the form of scholarships to enable women to do post-graduate work in British universities and that the tenure be similar to the Rhodes Scholarships. "We also suggested that if such scholarships were approved that they be implemented through the Canada Council," Mrs. Morton explained. "If other women's national groups would follow our example and send further requests to the prime minister, we might accomplish this worthwhile idea."

Mrs. A. S. Morton, president of Canadian Federation of University Women, believes that all responsible women's groups could help.—Photo by Bill Barrett, London.

When Canadian Federation of University Women was formed in 1919 there were no library schools in Canada, Mrs. Morton said.

"We used our influence and gave our support to library schools and to librarian training. Today we give an annual grant to a library for children's books where a trained librarian is employed."

Asked if she would like to see more women graduates in the sciences in Canada, Mrs. Morton said:

"In some fields of science there is no doubt women would be better suited than men."

However, "I am an individualist. I like to see a girl go in for the thing she is best fitted for and that she wants."

COMPLETE HOME BUILDERS SUPPLIES

SAVE ON PLYWOOD.
There's no need to buy full size sheets when you have the choice of many smaller sizes. Look over this list and you will see real values and just the size for your walls, attic basements, etc.
Remember Fir Plywood is the most versatile practical building material available.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"George Gobel wouldn't recognize his ugly, old wife Alice now—I lost 16 pounds," Jeff Donnell said from under a pretty black hat.

"George always said after three martinis he got fatter and taller. Oh well," she grumbled good-humoredly, "nobody ever recognizes me."

"I played Alice for four years. But she was such a shrew and never smiled. I smile sometimes."

Jeff Donnell smiled just then, most attractively.

"To show you—I play a nurse in my next TV show ('Little Tin God' on CBS tonight) and I have to give a hypo shot."

"I went to a hospital and said, 'I'm playing a nurse and would like to know how to give a hypo.' The nurse not only didn't recognize me—I'm sure she thought I was a narcotics addict!"

Jeff married outdoor advertising executive John Bricker after her divorce from Aldo Ray. ("My husband's crazy about billboards," she says). Figuring that a girl who changed her name from Jean Marie to Jeff while looking at a Mutt and Jeff comic strip might do other strange things, he keeps her on a budget so she won't go bankrupt buying flowers.

"I make special deals with one florist," Jeff said. "One day he said, 'Why don't you come to work for me? A lot of girls do part-time work.' He didn't recognize me, either."

As the mother of a 17½-year-old son named Mike, at 37, Jeff was flattered.

"At my age do you think I'm too old to be called 'Jeff'?" she asked, across a table at Sardi's East. "One advantage is that sometimes I get Jeff Chandler's very passionate fan mail."

"I passed him on the Hollywood Freeway once and I yelled 'I get your mail!' He acted like I was crazy or something."

Jeff's landed three non-comedienne TV roles and signed for a dramatic role in a B-way show, "Faster, Faster," for fall—but she admits missing her ex-husband, Lone George.

It was suggested she might return to his show as his wife when he begins his half-hour format on CBS in the fall. "Oh, I don't see how, I'm a New Yorker now," said Jeff (who was born in Maine and brought up in Maryland and Connecticut). "But George was such fun. Like that time he and Alice stole that tombstone in Chicago. Six sober people couldn't have carried it, but they got it home. George said you never knew when you might need a tombstone."

The Midnight Earl... Corinne Calvet got slapped by another gal at the Harwyn while they were with two beaux (according to witnesses) but Corinne, a perfect lady, didn't belt back. She claimed she hadn't felt it; had only seen the gal sweep out.

Earl's Pearls: Business today uses twice as much secretarial help as it did 25 years ago. We're still just as mixed up—but now we make duplicates of it.

Wish I'd Said That: Because a woman gets a mink or diamonds doesn't mean her husband got a better job. Maybe she got a better husband.—H. C. Diefenbach.

Today's Best Laugh: Dean Martin tells cafe audiences he's now a moderate drinker: "And I have a case of Moderate in my dressing room."

The Sgt. Bilko show—which is going off—won five Emmy Award nominations, and Mickey Freeman sighs, "I'll win as 'Funniest Show in a Discontinued Series.' That's earl, brother."

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Charles Stewart, aged 8, of Crawfordville, Ga., for his question:

How Many Different Snakes Are There?

The experts have named about 2,300 different snakes. This is about the number of people who live in a medium-sized village. Most of the snakes are known and named. But it could be that someone will discover an unknown snake next week or next year. There are at least 50 sea snakes. These excellent swimmers live in tropical seas where they feed on fish. Every one of them is dangerously poisonous.

Snakes live wherever the climate is not too cold. There are no snakes in polar regions. Certain islands have no snakes. It is true that there are no snakes in Ireland—except in zoos.

Most of the snakes that live on land are harmless fellows like the pretty little grass snake. They feed on rats, mice, moles, frogs and insects. Many of these creatures are our enemies. So we might say that the snakes who gobble them up are our friends.

This may be true. However, we must never forget that certain snakes are deadly dangerous. The poisonous snakes are always ready to bite. Some, like the deadly rattlesnake, have poisoned fangs which can kill a man in a few hours. The boa snakes kill by coiling around a victim and suffocating him. The boas are big snakes and we usually find them in the tropics.

Make Study of Native Snakes

Of the more than 2,000 different land snakes only 230 are poisonous. This means the minority of 9 or 10 per cent has given the entire snake family a bad name. Some people hate all snakes because rattlesnakes are dangerous. We do not have to hate all snakes. But we do have to be careful. This means that we should learn to recognize the various snakes that live in our neighborhoods.

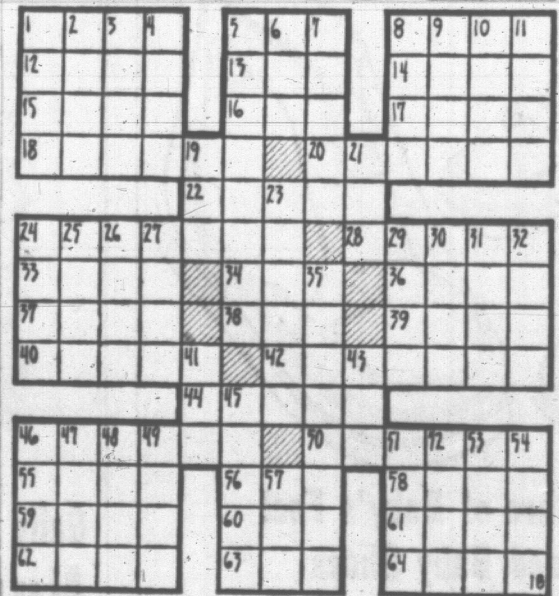

Your local zoo or library can help you do this. Perhaps your teacher has a list of the snakes you should watch and beware. Your Scoutmaster is certain to know. For each province has its own snake menaces. When you know all about these few delinquents, you are free to study and enjoy the far larger number of harmless snakes.

One of these harmless fellows may make an interesting pet. Give him a large dry box from which he cannot escape. Not everyone likes snakes. Andy's true friends are all too grown up to scare neighbors and relatives by letting a pet snake crawl where he should not be.

Each type of snake has his own favorite food, so you will have to check on what to feed your pet. He eats fresh meat and he swallows it whole, usually alive and kicking. As a rule, he rests for a day or two after one big meal. Some of the big boas rest for months after a big meal.

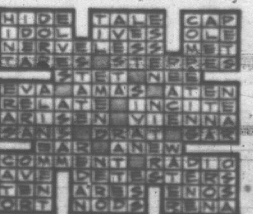

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Reva Haymore, age 9, of Douglas, Arizona, for her question: How far is Mercury from the sun?

Mercury's average distance from the sun is about 36 million miles. The little planet gets almost seven times more heat and light from the sun than we do. To be more accurate, just one half of Mercury gets all this heat and light. For the little planet orbits its around with the same side always facing the sun. On the sun side, Mercury is hot enough to melt lead. The opposite side is in eternal shadow and may be close to absolute zero. Mercury whizzes around its orbit at 23 to 36 miles a second. It takes 88 earth days to make one complete trip, which means that a year on Mercury is equal to about 88 days on earth.

Margot Freed—'Rebel' Role Brings Chortles

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP)—As a revolutionary, Britain's Dame Margot Fonteyn is a great ballerina. Take that word from friends, relatives and associates, all equally astounded that Panama police should think Britain's greatest ballerina may be mixed up in a revolutionary plot.

"I'll bet she's enjoying it all," said an official of the Royal Ballet when told Dame Margot was in a Panama jail while police try to figure out if she is in a plot allegedly involving her Panama husband. Today she was expelled from Panama.

Asked on her arrival at Miami if she would return to London, she replied: "Yes, but I don't know exactly when." Later she left for New York.

"We all think she would make a marvelous revolutionary—on the stage. She'd know exactly what costumes to wear and she'd look glorious with a knife between her teeth."

"My daughter mixed up with a sunken gunboat? How silly!" exclaimed the dancer's mother, Mrs. Hilda Hookham.

"The experience should prove valuable to her next performance here in June when she dances in Delibes' Sylvia," said an opera house official.

"In the second act she is carried away and made captive in a palace to be saved by divine providence in the form of Cupid. Dame Margot is getting good training in Panama."

Dame Margot doesn't need the training. She is acclaimed as the greatest ballerina in the Western world.

In 1956 she went to Buckingham Palace and received the title of Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire—the feminine equivalent of knighthood.

Only about 150 talented women hold the honor. She has been the star of the Sadler's Wells, the Royal Ballet Company, for more than a decade.

Margot was born in Reigate, England, May 18, 1919, the daughter of a British engineer for the British-American Tobacco Company. Her mother was from a rich Brazilian coffee family.

Margaret began dancing at four. When the family moved to Shanghai she took up ballet dancing seriously.

At 14 she made her debut in London as one of the 28 snowflakes in the Nutcracker Suite, and in a few years was dancing leading roles.

Offstage, she is an impish lady who likes to jitterbug.

In 1955 she married Roberto Arias, then Panamanian ambassador to Britain and son of the former president of Panama, Harmodio Arias.

TRADE PACT AGREEMENT BY CANADA, AUSTRALIA

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and Australia have successfully completed the initial stage of negotiations on a new trade agreement which, informants said today, may help expand Commonwealth trade generally.

The proposals made by the negotiators now will be considered in detail by the Australian and Canadian governments and informants said there appears to be little doubt that the formal signing of a new trade pact—the first major revision in 28 years—will be undertaken soon. The new pact would require ratification of the two parliaments.

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson, accusing the government of showing "bad faith and bad management" in its policies, said Thursday night Canada's word doesn't mean as much now as it used to.

'FLEXIBLE FLEMING'

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition leader Pearson Tuesday night tagged Finance Minister Fleming with a new title—"flexible Fleming."

He said Mr. Fleming in his budget talked learnedly about a flexible approach to budgeting. This indicated that Mr. Fleming had been converted to the economic ideas of John Maynard Keynes, who used to be the target of the minister's jibes when Mr. Fleming sat in opposition.

However, Mr. Pearson said, this late-in-life conversion was in the true Conservative fashion. True Conservatives adjusted years later to changes made by Liberals, even if the ideas they adjusted to had themselves become outdated.

Man Leaps To Death From Bridge

VANCOUVER (CP)—A former Edmonton man ignored the pleas of onlookers and plunged 200 feet to his death into Burrard Inlet from the Lions Gate Bridge today.

Dead is Allan Cemm, 24. His 20-year-old companion told police Cemm raped her twice before he drove to the bridge and leaped to his death.

Four men pleaded with Cemm to climb back to safety as he clung to a girder. "To hell with you," he shouted. The woman told police Cemm raped her in his car after they had been drinking beer together. He forced her to stay in the car while he drove towards the bridge.

As they neared the bridge, Cemm, who said he was "going for a swim," told her he wanted to kill her. He asked her to write the will. She said Cemm stopped the car in the centre of the span, walked to the west side and climbed over the rail.

She drove the car to the toll gate and warned tollkeeper Don Sheekley, who telephoned West Vancouver police.

For several minutes, as Cemm clung precariously to the girder, a tugboat patrolled below.

Then he released his grasp and plunged to the water, landing 50 feet from the tug.

Industrial Output At All-Time High

OTTAWA (CP)—Industrial production in Canada hit an all-time high in February, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Regaining its stride after the 1957-58 slump, the production index—based on 1949 equalling 100—rose for six consecutive months to reach a record 160.9 in February, up 3.1 points from January and 9.7 points from February last year.

This 9.7-point rise in the index adjusted for shifts in Canada's production seasons, compared with a drop of 9.3 points in the similar 12-month period a year ago.

All major segments of the industrial production index showed gains in February. The mining index rose to 256.4 from 243.1 in January and 242 in February last year; manufacturing to 143.4 from 141.4 and 135.2, respectively; electric power and gas utilities, to 263.6 from 261.7 and 237.3.

Industrial production is a key indicator of Canada's economic health. February's gains and emphasis to the forecast of Finance Minister Fleming in his April 9 "recovery" budget that Canada's national production this year would rise by 7 per cent to a record $34,500,000,000.

Government agencies reported Monday that unemployment in Canada declined for the second straight month between late February and late March. This was a reversal of the usual seasonal trend.

Renew Butter Support

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has decided to renew the present floor price on butter at 64 cents a pound and to reduce subsidies on other dairy products in efforts to discourage surplus production, it was learned today.

U.S. Labels Russ Demand Hypocritical

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today rejected as completely hypocritical a new Soviet demand that the Western powers withhold nuclear and other modern weapons from West German forces.

The Soviet government, in a note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Tuesday, charged that the West could torpedo the Geneva foreign minister's meeting on German issues by going ahead with NATO defence measures.

The Big Four ministers will meet next month.

State department press officer Lincoln White declared in a statement that what the Soviet government seeks is to get the West to "discontinue the defensive measures it has undertaken against the threat posed by Soviet armed might."

"Soviet efforts to achieve this goal," White said, "can only be regarded in the West as completely hypocritical so long as the Soviet union itself fails to indicate its willingness to engage in controlled disarmament."

SOCRED GOV'T SIMILAR TO FASCISTS—BRYAN

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Social Credit government in B.C. is becoming "increasingly similar" to a Fascist party, Mel Bryan, former Social Credit member of the legislature, said Tuesday night.

Now a Liberal member for North Vancouver, Mr. Bryan told a party rally here the government "withholds reports, makes deals without public knowledge and now it proudly announces the final Wenner-Gren deal won't even come before the legislature."

"If all the people in the province who are leaving Social Credit were lined up end to end, the premier would have a heart attack."

Will Wen-Gren Drop Scheme?

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Wall Street Journal took a long look today at Axel Wenner-Gren's ambitious hydro-electric power and mining scheme in British Columbia.

The financial paper pointed out that the Swedish financier still could back away from the whole idea as he did from his grandiose development scheme in Southern Rhodesia "in highly similar circumstances several years ago."

Correspondent Raymond Scherick, writing from Hudson's Hope, B.C., mentioned, but did not dwell on, another aspect of Wenner-Gren's vast Peace River scheme—the Swedish financier now is 78 years old and his B.C. scheme is no development to be rushed to completion in a year or so.

The Journal also treated with reserve the pledge of the Wenner-Gren interests to start construction next year of a 400-mile monorail system to the Yukon border.

U.S. CAPITAL?

Noting that B.C. premier W. A. C. Bennett takes the Wenner-Gren promise to start work on the monorail system in dead earnest, the Journal speculates that perhaps the Swedish financier and his Canadian and British associates hope to get American capital for that part of their scheme because the railway would lead toward Alaska.

It is pointed out that, so far, the exploration have been carried out with great secrecy although some 460 claims have been filed at the Vancouver mining recorder's office by Wenner-Gren's Totem Mineral, Ltd.

OTTAWA (CP)—Immigration Minister Fairclough said today she plans to ask the cabinet to rescind an order made public April 2 restricting immigration to Canada from certain countries of all but the closest relatives of Canadian residents.

Black-Veiled Royal Couple Warmly Greeted by Pope

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Sombrely dressed in black with black veils and mantillas, the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret today were received in private audience by Pope John XXIII.

It was Princess Margaret's second audience with a pope. Pius XII received her 10 years ago when she spent a holiday in Italy.

Sir Marcus Cheke, British minister to the Vatican, has denied press reports that today's audience means the princess wishes to join the Roman Catholic Church, or that the papal representative in London will be elevated from apostolic delegate to papal nuncio.

The 77-year-old pontiff met the two women at the threshold of his quarters, shook their hands warmly and ushered them into his library for the private audience.

The Queen Mother and the princess made slight curtsies but did not kneel, as Roman Catholics do when meeting the Pope.

They wore black dresses and veils customary for papal audiences. But the somberness of their costume was brightened by tiaras, and the Queen Mother wore the jewel and blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter.

The conversation was in French, which the Pope, Queen Mother and princess all speak fluently. The pontiff opened the audience by apologizing for being unable to speak English.

"It will be the next language that I will learn," he said.

At the end of the papal audience, the Pope presented the royal ladies with gold medals of his pontificate and with a precious mosaic of the Virgin Mary.

Britain's militant Protestant Truth Society had complained about the audience because of Queen Elizabeth's position as titular head of the Church of England. The Queen Mother replied that she was calling on the Pope as head of the Vatican state during her state visit to Italy, and that the visit implied no concurrence in his religious beliefs.

Princess Margaret's other main engagement today is a nightclub outing. The Queen Mother will unveil a statue of Lord Byron.

By A. K. GUPTA

KATHMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Communist Chinese troops have turned Tibet into a vast prison with thousands of Tibetans being whipped each day in the streets and Buddhist nuns sent to army camps for the pleasure of the troops, refugees fleeing to Nepal reported today.

They said nearly 2,500 Tibetan monasteries were damaged or destroyed by Communist artillery in the past month and nearly 8,000 monks killed, 12,000 arrested and about 800,000 lamas forced to flee homeless and hungry into the mountains.

This correspondent travelled through the snow-covered 17,000-foot mountain passes in reach the border of Tibet and interviewed the refugees. At the Nepal-Tibet border a few miles north of the village of Tarke, I met some refugees who said some of 30 well-armed Chinese divisions in Tibet were led by Russians.

One English-speaking Tibetan named Thote, a 27-year-old graduate of Peiping University, said the Chinese killed 165 members of his clan in the village of Ghetumba in Kham province. He said he saw his father machine-gunned for refusing to betray other Tibetan patriots.

VILLAGES GONE

Thote said that during his flight to Nepal he has passed through 65 villages that had been known as good trading centres and that every one was destroyed by the Communists with not a sign of life visible anywhere.

"Every Tibetan was a prisoner," he said. "The whole country was turned into a vast prison. Dusk to dawn curfews were imposed all over Tibet and did not allow normal living."

"Thousands of peaceful, innocent Tibetans were being whipped daily in open places in the course of questioning and inhumane methods were being applied for confession. Mostly the people preferred to confess as desired by the Chinese than stand tortures any longer."

NUNS SUICIDE

"Markets are closed; essential consumer goods have disappeared; trade is finished, resulting in numerous deaths inside houses from artificial starvation caused by the Chinese. Any mention of devotion to the Dalai Lama was a serious crime and people were being forced to show their entire devotion to the Panchen Lama."

"Large numbers of nuns, who locally are called 'ennis', have been forced to live in army camps at the pleasure of the Chinese. Several nuns reportedly committed suicide."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O God, whose love can never be frozen into forms and channels, but who has given men the ability to work with their fellows, give grace and power this day to every institution dedicated to the service of human need. May hospitals, homes for children and the aged, social welfare agencies, and every group working for physical, mental and moral rehabilitation feel Thy guiding hand, and may all who serve through these efforts be granted renewal of strength; in the name of the Servant of all. Amen.

COMMONS GETS START ON NEW ENERGY BOARD

OTTAWA (CP)—The government started parliamentary machinery rolling today to create a national energy board which would exercise a measure of control over Canada's gas and oil industries.

Trade Minister Churchill gave customary notice on the Commons order paper of a resolution to proceed formal introduction of the necessary legislation.

The brief notice gave no details of how the board would function or how much control it would have over the industries.

Mr. Pearson referred to statements by Mr. Diefenbaker that the government had recently granted leases on some 75,000,000 acres in the Arctic islands for oil and gas exploration and that this was a further protection of Canadian sovereignty in the area.

Yet, said Mr. Pearson, figures from the resources minister showed 95 per cent of the leases went to either U.S. companies or Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. companies.

Both Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Diefenbaker said the figures Mr. Pearson was using referred only to leases on about 3,000,000 acres, not the whole 75,000,000.

Mr. Pearson said that at any rate, on the basis of what information the government had been willing to give, only 5 per cent of acreage referred to had been leased to Canadians.

EXPEDIENT POLICY

The government had elevated expediency into a principle and policy of government.

Mr. Diefenbaker, during the election campaign had promised to cut taxes and raise old age pensions and had said promises that can't be kept should never be made.

"Where are the other vows of expediency?" demanded Mr. Pearson. What of Mr. Diefenbaker's promise of diverting 15 per cent of Canada's import duty to the United Kingdom to help the balance of trade between Britain and Canada? Had increased? Meanwhile, imports from the U.S. had risen from the early months of 1957 to the early months of 1959.

"That's a very good example in the wrong direction," Mr. Pearson taunted, as both Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Diefenbaker listened attentively.

At one point, both Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Pearson vigorously interrupted to claim that Mr. Pearson was misrepresenting a statement by the resources minister.

WICKS SILENT ON IWA's MEDIATION BID

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks was non-committal Tuesday following a meeting with International Woodworkers of America officials who asked him to mediate its current wage dispute.

Mr. Wicks said only it was "a very amicable" meeting. It was attended also by representatives of Forest Industrial Relations, representing firms negotiating with the 27,000-member woodworkers' union.

The mediation proposal was suggested as an alternative to normal conciliation procedures. IWA seeks a 20 per cent wage boost.

Gold Strike Starts Rush

(Compiled From CP)

GRAND FORKS—Gold seekers carrying flashlights are reported hunting for the elusive metal in the Rock Creek district, 30 miles west of here.

Three men, are reported to have made a rich placer strike in the area and when it became known several parties started for the creek, 200 miles east of Vancouver.

Stan Kuzicka, president of the Canadian Legion in Greenwood, and two unidentified companions are reported to have found gold in the creek gravel when their truck became stuck. One carried a small bottle half full of light gravel and what appeared to be gold.

The strike was made between Rock Creek, a settlement of 250 people, and Beaverdell, 30 miles to the north.

YACHTSMAN DROWNED

VANCOUVER — Ken M. Skene, 62, was drowned late Tuesday when his pleasure boat was run down by a scow in tow. The accident occurred west of the Second Narrows Bridge, east of the downtown area. Police said the vessel ducked between the tug Gillian Lindsay and its tow and was hit by the scow.

YOUTH KILLED

LILLOOET — A Vancouver youth was killed and two of his young friends seriously injured when their car left Moha Road near here and crashed 450 feet into the Bridge River.

The dead youth was identified as James Maclean, 17, Gavin Idler, 16, suffered severe head injuries and broken ribs; and Glen Leblanc, 15, a fractured pelvis. Idler was in critical condition in hospital here today.

The accident was believed to have happened Monday night.

AIRPORT AID ASKED

VANCOUVER — A five-man delegation will go to Ottawa next month, seeking a $10,300,000 loan to help build a new passenger terminal at International Airport here.

The city council named Mayor Tom Alsbury to head the delegation. It was unofficially reported Tuesday that the federal government had planned rejection of an earlier bid for assistance.

Total cost of the new terminal would be $13,750,000. The federal government has agreed to provide $3,450,000.

Gagliardi's Son Admits Speeding

KAMLOOPS (CP) — The 18-year-old son of Highway Minister Gagliardi was convicted Tuesday of a speeding charge and fined $15.

His father has been fined three times for speeding.

to escape Chinese brutalities," he said.

Lithon, another refugee, said 20,000 Chinese troops were searching each house and every person in search of offenders along the southwestern border of Tibet and that most of the people had fled to the barren plateaus and now were dying of hunger and cold.

"The Chinese have confiscated every ounce of corn available in the area and have scorched-earthed all the standing crops in the field, turning the entire vegetation into ashes," he said.

"Every person must beg food from the Chinese officer at the nearest camp, waiting hours in long unending lines and only those who could satisfy the Chinese of their loyalty managed to get one meal."

Anglani, who lost his wife and three children while escaping, said he saw Russians with the Chinese, and believed they were helping the Communists, build a big concentration camp at the 17,000-foot level at the northern base of Mt. Everest.

Despite this campaign of terror, the refugees said the Tibetans still were continuing their fight against the Communists and showing open defiance of their Red rulers.

They said lockets with the picture of the Dalai Lama were worn in spite of the fact that Chinese soldiers have orders to shoot on sight anyone wearing such a locket.

Youth Loses Appeal

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 16-year-old Victoria boy lost his appeal Tuesday from a sentence of one year definite and six months indefinite.

Donald Richard Nelson was given the term by Magistrate W. L. Ostler, February 17, for stealing a car.

REACHES BARBADOS IN ROUND-WORLD BID

City Man Emulates Tilikum

Former Victoria yachtsman John Guzzwell reached Barbados Tuesday in the course of a leisurely and solitary around-the-world voyage in his 18-foot yawl Trekka.

He left here in September, 1955, with indefinite plans, but has apparently decided to emulate the round-the-world feat of Capt. J. C. Voss and his sailing canoe Tilikum. Capt. Voss completed his epic cruise in 1904.

Mr. Guzzwell's Trekka is about two-thirds the length of the Tilikum. A cabinet maker from England, Mr. Guzzwell built his yawl here over an 18 month period.

His first stop after leaving Victoria was Hawaii, which he reached in 29 days under ideal sailing conditions. From Hawaii he sailed to Australia, and at one time was reported missing off the Australian coast, but turned up safely. He then sailed to Durban, South Africa.

He reached Barbados Tuesday after a 37-day, 3,000-mile journey from Ascension.

Mr. Guzzwell told reporters he hoped to complete his circumnavigation by September of this year, and that he would set a record for the smallest boat to make such a voyage.

Fleming Hits Back At Liberal Critics

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA—Finance Minister Fleming attacked the Liberal opposition Tuesday as a party without a policy, happy only when the economy is lagging.

"They are happy only when they revel in what is bad news for the Canadian people," Mr. Fleming said as he took the floor to reply to seven days of opposition criticism in the budget debate.

He said the Liberals have cast doubts on his budget forecast of a seven-per-cent rise in national production this year.

admit that recovery is going on.

He spoke a few hours before a vote on a Liberal non-confidence motion accusing the government of "bad faith" in producing a budget of higher taxes, record expenditures and a large deficit after having been elected on promises of lower taxes, reduced expenditures and a balanced budget.

The motion was defeated on a vote of 167 to 45, with the Liberals supported by the CCF party.

'Hit-and-Run Speeches' Charged

Mr. Fleming said neither the Liberal motion nor speeches by party members have said what the opposition would have done. Instead there had been "a series of hit-and-run speeches."

"They have run right away from anything like an expression of opinion on matters in the budget."

Harold Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) said the finance minister's speech showed him to be "a Don Quixote Fleming charging against mirages."

Canada needed a minister "prepared to face realities" of increasing interest rates, continuing unemployment, inflation and growing competition for export markets.

He said Mr. Fleming will go down in history as "the great betrayer" because his budget divorced financial policy from his party's election promises, from realistic tax policies and from the needs of the common people.

Cigaret, Whisky Tax Boosts Blasted

Finance Minister Fleming's decision to add more tax to the cost of cigarettes and whisky was "a darn shame," Mr. Winch said Tuesday.

"It wouldn't be so bad if he'd bring in a law and take some of the water out of it," Mr. Winch said, adding his gratitude that the minister "left the working man's beer alone."

He also paid a compliment to brewers that have announced they will absorb the effect of a 1 per cent increase in the sales tax.

Mr. Winch said that before Mr. Fleming's decision April 9 to increase the cigarette tax another two cents a package of 20, smokers were already paying 17.7 cents tax on each pack they bought.

As for drinkers of spirits—whisky and that sort of thing—80 cents of every dollar spent on such beverages was federal or provincial tax before Mr. Fleming's decision to raise the tax still higher, by about 15 cents a 25-ounce bottle. Of the 80 cents, Mr. Winch said, 43 went to the federal government.

With the tax in cigarettes and drink so high already, Mr. Fleming had "put on a little too much" when he decided to ask for more—especially since his budget took no action to tax those who make "millions" in stock market deals.

Newspaper columnist, Margaret Aitken charged Tuesday

that a proposal by a CCF member to prohibit publication of opinion polls before an election is a foot in the door to infringement of freedom of expression, opinion and the press.

The Progressive Conservative MP for York-Humber received a round of desk-thumping applause from her colleagues, who backed up her forthright denunciation of the bill by voting it down by 190 to 6.

Twenty-eight Liberals sided with the Progressive Conservatives although none of the Liberal MPs participated in the 45-minute debate on the measure, sponsored by Arnold Peters (CCF, Timmins).

The vote was the first this session on a private member's bill.

A total of 183 RCMP members up to the rank of staff sergeant resigned between July, 1958, and March 18, 1959, the House was informed on Tuesday.

A written reply tabled by Justice Minister Fulton for Frank Howard (CCF, Skeena), showed that 82 went on pension, 39 quit because they lost interest in police duties, 39 because they could not comply with marriage regulations, 12 to take more lucrative employment, five to take further education, four for personal reasons and two for health reasons.

The number of resignations by commissioned officers was not reported.

John Akins Rites Set for Thursday

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday for John Sanderson Akins, 88, a resident of Victoria for 56 years. He died Monday.

The services will be held at McCall's Funeral Chapel at 1:15 p.m.

Mr. Akins was born in Gary, Ont., in 1870 and came to Victoria in 1903. Between 1919 and 1946, when he retired, he was advertising manager for David Spencer Ltd. He was prominent among lawn bowls ers and a member of the Laurier Club. Surviving are two sons, John, 57, Simcoe, and Robert, also of the city.

HIGHER SALMON PRICES SOUGHT BY FISHERMEN

VANCOUVER (CP)—The United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (Ind.) has demanded increased salmon prices for 1959. It was learned Tuesday.

The union wants 32 cents a pound for sockeye, compared with last year's 28 cents.

Other requested prices: 13 cents for pinks, compared with 9¢ last year; 12 cents in all areas for chums (last year the chum price ranged 7¢ to 12 cents depending on area and season), and 24 cents for coho as against 1958's 18 cents.

NEW PWA PLANES WON'T CHANGE STAND

Mayor Sticks With TCA

Victoria still backs Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Mayor Percy Scurrell said Tuesday.

Commenting on a Pacific Western Airlines' postponement of its bid to take over Victoria's main air services, he said:

"Regardless of any new situation, the attitude of the city is unchanged. We still will expect TCA to serve this area."

PWA delayed its application before the air transport board to make a thorough evaluation of operating costs if it should switch to turbo-propeller aircraft.

In the 10 years up to 1957 South Africa's gross national product increased from 1967, 000,000 to £2,243,000,000.

Britain's Crazy Gang

LONDON—Rather a sad prediction by Bud Flanagan, leader of the Crazy Gang, the group of comics who are perennial favorites with English theatre-goers. At the opening of their new revue he said: "This show we're doing now is the show in which one of us will die. Maybe more than one."

Cast in the same mold as Olsen and Johnson in their Heilzapop days, the Crazy Gang have been at it since 1931. The public never tires of them, each of their shows running 18 months to two years.

Originally six of them, they were made up of three double acts combining—Flanagan and Allen, Naughton and Gold, and Nervo and Knox. Several years ago Allen dropped out with a heart condition and the ages of the five remaining—61 to 74—have convinced Flanagan that the gang will gradually diminish "like the 10 little Indians."

As haywire off the stage as on it, Flanagan says they're prepared to die off but they don't worry about it. "Each time one of us says he feels bad we make a gag of it," he said. "We send a wreath around to his dressing room."

At the age when the average person is retired from business or contemplating it, how does the Crazy Gang manage to keep up the pace of two shows nightly, more than five hours of hectic knockabout comedy? Do they conserve their energy by leading quite temperate lives away from the theatre?

Not a bit of it. The racetracks are their favorite haunt when off-duty. Charlie

Naughton on his own admission is addicted to Scotch and never gets to bed before four in the morning. Flanagan smokes 80 cigarettes a day.

All in all, the Crazy Gang are a poor advertisement for temperance. But the public will be genuinely saddened when Flanagan's prediction starts to come true.

John Betjeman has disproved the old adage that you can't make money out of writing poetry. His Collected Poems, published last year, have caught the public fancy and made him "probably the only English poet to make enough from poetry to pay income tax."

Appeal of his verse is that it is not high-flown like the outpourings of more precious poets but captures the mood of everyday things like a suburban tearoom or an old London railway station.

Usually a poet is lucky if he gets rid of a thousand copies of a book of poems. Betjeman has already hit 40,000 with his, a figure recognized in the book trade here as rating a book a "best seller."

Not since people queued outside bookshops in 1915 to buy the war poems of Rupert Brooke has any English poet had such financial success.

A shaggy, rumpled-clothed 50-year-old, Betjeman describes himself in Who's Who as a hack. For years he has been a sort of odd-job man of journalism, available to any editor who wants a good job done on theatre or books, reviewing, pieces on architecture, a general column, feature articles on practically any topic.

But currently he finds himself lionized by society—and royalty in the Duchess of Kent bracket—as a poet.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Plea for Understanding

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

As I will keep saying in this column, one of the disgraceful things about our civilization is our cruel behavior to the patient who has just been released from a mental hospital.

No one will want to give him a job. The minute an employment manager learns that he has been in a mental hospital, he says, "We will keep your name on file and will call you if anything shows up." But why this fear of a man who has been cured of insanity? He is not likely ever to become violent or to hurt anyone working alongside of him. He may be a bit difficult or tired at times, but who isn't? If his boss will only be kind, and will occasionally make allowances, the man probably will settle down to become a good workman.

I never knew how impossible it is for a man just out of a mental hospital to get a job until I read Mrs. Hackett's book, "The Cliff's Edge" (McGraw-Hill). There she tells how when her fine husband got out of the hospital, he walked the streets for weeks hunting a job, and no one would take him even as a common laborer. Eventually, the only job that he, a well-trained executive, could find open to him was that of a grave-digger. As Mrs. Hackett said, if a person who had never been insane had been treated that cruelly, he might well have lost his reason.

Today, in a few cities the people are facing this miserable situation and are opening "protected" shops in which people recently out of a mental hospital are given work that they can perform for wages. In such a shop there are kindly and trained people who will help the person who perhaps fears that he is slipping back a bit toward his old psychosis.

A devoted man who is spending his life trying to help people who, like him, have recovered from insanity, is Mr. William Moore of M.R. 98, Binghamton, New York. He is publishing a helpful little journal called Search. Everyone interested ought to send Bill two dollars to help him to finance this good work. I hope, also, that many good citizens who read this will do something in their city to help the man who was insane for a while and now cannot get a job anywhere. Why should the authorities in his city be so stupid as to want to support him in idleness when he would so gladly work and support himself?

Many people will send me a book on some phase of medicine—usually a book very popular at the time—but one written by either a layman or someone who is a bit of a crackpot. Usually the book is popular and is selling wonderfully well because it was written by a man who knew almost no medicine. This left him free to promise his readers all sorts of lovely things that no sensible or honest doctor would think of promising. Book publishers tell me that some of these books were largely "ghosted," that is, written by a "hack-writer" for a fee.

People write to find out if I know about the layman's or the crackpot's book, and why I am not boosting it in this column. They say, "Don't you know that arthritis can be cured with a diet?" Or "Don't you know that most diseases are due to a low blood sugar?" Yes; people have sent me copies of these books, but I am not impressed. When I want to learn something about a subject I like to read books written by recognized experts—men who, perhaps, have spent a lifetime studying their subject.

Cold Frame Important Now

Young plants being raised from seed sown indoors, still require close attention. They are now at the hardening-off stage—that is, they are being gradually subjected to outdoor conditions, but still protected from extremes of the weather.

A cold frame, with glass or polythene covers, as described frequently in these columns, is ideal for the process. The covers are removed early in the morning, allowing full air and sun over the plants.

At night when the covers are replaced to keep off frost, which is still around in most areas, wedges may be inserted under the lower end of each cover to raise it about three inches. This will allow cold air to circulate around the plants to harden them, yet will prevent frost from causing damage.

The exception to this opening of frames at night is in the case of warm-country plants as salvia, dahlia, celosia, African marigold and zinnia which should not be exposed to risk of frost.

Gardeners without a cold frame (they will soon make one if they start raising their own bedding annuals) will need to go to the trouble of placing the flats of plants outdoors each day, and taking them in at night.

If a mild night arrives, with plenty of cloud and perhaps a gentle rain, the flats may be left out, again with the reservations above.

BRIEF URGES BILINGUAL CIVIL SERVICE

OTTAWA (CP)—An increase in the number of bilingual persons in the federal civil service was proposed today in a brief to Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Main proposals of the brief, presented by La Federation des Societes St. Jean-Baptiste du Quebec, were:

Appointment of bilingual persons to posts where civil servants are called on to deal with both French and English-speaking citizens.

Equal opportunity to all civil servants for promotion to higher positions, regardless of racial origin.

Reforms in laws and regulations dealing with bilingualism in the civil service.

CELEBRATING 80th birthday Tuesday was Hon. Eric Hamber, lieutenant-governor of B.C. from 1936 to 1941. Among guests at private birthday supper in Vancouver were Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Frank Ross.

CREDIT DEADLINE EXTENDED

War Pension Hike Hinted

MONTREAL (CP)—Veterans Affairs Minister Brooks said Tuesday night the government hopes to increase pension benefits for disabled war veterans.

He made the statement to the Department of Veterans Affairs Employees' National Association at the group's annual convention.

He declined to say whether the department had immediate plans to introduce a proposal to Parliament.

Mr. Brooks said the government plans to extend to September 30, 1962, the deadline and home construction assistance for re-establishment credit under settlement legislation.

Peace R. Hydro 'Beat U.S. Aces'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Peace River power, if relatively unnoticed in British Columbia, "has caused all hell to break loose in the United States."

Lands Minister Williston said here Tuesday night.

Mr. Williston said "that job on the Peace will return more on a long-term basis than any other development in B.C. in years."

"U.S. power interests now realize for the first time they haven't got B.C. at their mercy."

Williston said he is convinced the U.S. "has been waiting to get us over a barrel" ever since Columbia River talks broke off in 1956.

"They knew we would eventually have to develop the Columbia and were prepared to sit back and wait."

"They were sitting with four aces until power was reported on the Peace" and overnight they lost their advantage.

The minister told a university group here he will also seek compensation for flood-control benefits on the lower Columbia as well as a substantial power return.

"U.S. interests followed engineering reports on the Peace closer than any group in B.C.," he said.

Canada Gets 'Bad Press' In Britain

Canada is getting very "bad press" in Great Britain, Kiwanis Club members were told Tuesday.

Owner of the Olde England Inn, Sam Lane, who recently returned from a visit to his former homeland said "that immigration people and others there are doing a grand job but somewhere along the line things are getting gummed up."

In a luncheon address at the Empress Hotel, Mr. Lane said that last January 9,000 people in England applied to go to Australia compared to 2,000 for Canada.

He attributed this to the attitude of business and government officials handling immigrants and cited several cases where immigrants had been treated in a cursory manner.

Mr. Lane said that every immigrant is apprehensive and sensitive to mistreatment since he is "giving up a sense of security" and moving into a different life.

He said that Canada was a young nation "with time to build our own temples" and warned that we should "avoid the excesses of the Old World ... and the gross materialism of the new."

Liquor Board Workers Get Pay Increase

Liquor Control Board chairman Col. Donald McGugan and all employees of the government liquor commission were granted pay increases by cabinet order-in-council Monday.

But there was still no indication of an anticipated increase in liquor prices.

Col. McGugan's salary was increased by $2,400 to $14,400—the same increase as was recently given deputy ministers. The increase for liquor board employees was in ratio with the increase granted other civil servants early in March.

Principal clerks' salaries, which ranged previously from $340 to $400 a month, now will be paid at the rate of $367 to $430. A Grade III clerk's salary, which previously ranged between $270 and $320, depending on service, now is increased to $324 to $389.

The increases are retroactive to April 1.

An increase in the price of whisky of an anticipated 25 cents per 25-ounce bottle is considered likely due to increased federal taxes announced in the budget at Ottawa.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Decline at Toronto In Light Trading

Industrials gave up all their early gains as the Toronto stock market was down today in light mid-afternoon trading.

Western oils, off most of the session, recovered for a small gain, as metals and golds were off.

The New York market backed away from record levels in late trading today. American Telephone wilted about six points. Chemicals were a strong point although Union Carbide dropped a point-plus.

AT TORONTO western oils recovered as Calgary and Edmonton gained 30 and Home B and Hudson's Bay added small fractions. Canadian Eagle Oil was a standout, up 3 1/2 at 11 1/4.

Among industrials Moore Corp. added 2 as it touched a 1959 peak of 115.

Uranium and coppers were weak among metals. Gunter was off 1/4 at 15 1/4 and Consolidated Denison was off 1/4 at 14 1/4.

In golds McIntyre lost 1/4 at 8 1/4, but Kerr-Addison was up 1/4 at 19.

AT NEW YORK Canadian Pacific and Walker Gooderham were off 1/4. International Nickel 1/4. Aluminum Ltd. and Granby Mining 1/4. Distillers Seagrams gained 1/4.

On the American stock exchange Brazilian Traction lost 1/4. Molybdenite 1/16. Fargo Oil gained 3/16.

AT MONTREAL industrial prices remained about mixed today on the stock exchange. Turnover was moderately active.

AT LONDON the stock market made an irregular showing again today. The under-tone, however, remained firm. Gilt-edged securities maintained Tuesday's better trend and showed further widespread small gains in response to small investment buying.

Dollar stocks were irregular.

AT VANCOUVER trading was light with little change in prices during the forenoon.

Aerial Truck for 21st Birthday Given Oak Bay Fire Department

By AB KENT

The new apparatus, delivered last month and in service since, will be highlight of a dedication-open house gathering of Reeve Geo. Murdoch, councillors and citizens at the fire hall at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The new truck, with its 65-foot power-operated ladder which telescopes in three sections, brings the department's force to three, the others both pump trucks.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

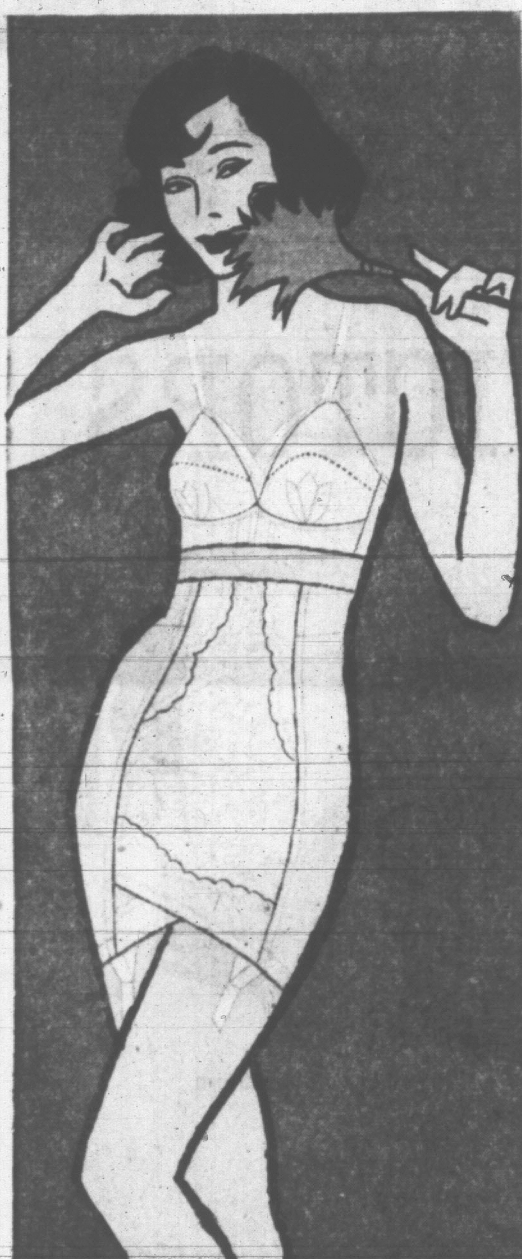

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat... actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat... unblocks it... for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills, exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients, relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat. Only 43¢.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Modern Metal Furniture Co., Ltd., 1302 Wharf, was fined $25 and $2.50 in city police court Monday when it was found guilty of failing to pay a total $682.39 in excise taxes last year.

The company was charged on five counts, including the period August-December, and pleas of not guilty were entered to each.

The court also ordered that the delinquent taxes be paid.

Wayne Budynski, 56 Cadilac, was given a suspended sentence and placed on $500 bond for good behavior in city police court Monday on a charge of stealing letters under $50 value from the B.C. government, April 8.

The former government clerk was charged with theft of a $10 bill, an $11 money order and six cheques, from letters sent by a federal government department to the provincial treasury.

Magistrate William Ostler referred to the act as a "spur of the moment theft," and pointed to the young man's previous good record.

Thomas Powell, 605 Speed, is in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today with face injuries received when he was struck with a piece of two-by-four on a construction job at Cedar Hill and Kiwanis Way, shortly before noon Monday.

Apparently a shovel came down on the lumber causing it to fly up and strike Powell.

Empress Hotel employees, members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers CLC, are seeking a 20-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Negotiations involve 3,500 employees in most Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Hotels. The union also is seeking higher pay for certain tradesmen, improved vacations and abolition of split shifts. Present agreements expire June 1.

Official reopening of the Maritime Museum of B.C. at Signal Hill in Esquimalt will be held at 12 noon April 30, with Lieutenant Governor Frank Ross officiating.

The museum has undergone extensive renovation and improvements. Prior to the official ceremony, it is open to the public from 9.30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Mondays and Tuesdays.

An organization to co-ordinate, plan, investigate and guide the visitor industry in Greater Victoria is now in the early stages of formation.

It will be composed of representatives of all existing tourist bodies in the area.

Founder of the new organization is Cy Porter, assistant commissioner at Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. It will be discussed at a meeting of Victoria Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group at the Olde England Inn this evening.

It is expected that a full slate of officers will be elected at this meeting.

OVERALL PLANNING

"There is a need for overall planning and guidance of the visitor industry here," Mr. Porter said today, "and I believe this organization will answer our needs for 10 years to come."

The council's principal aim would be to represent itself as one specialized co-ordinating organization dealing solely with tourism in the Greater Victoria area.

"It will speak for the visitor industry as a whole," Mr. Porter said.

YEAR-ROUND

One of the aims of the new organization will be to develop year-round visitor entertainment in Victoria.

"At present," Mr. Porter said, "no such guidance or follow-up exists and many a project never gets beyond the idea stage, or at best begins modestly and then fails the following year."

$3,000 DAILY GIVEN TO JUBILEE CAMPAIGN

An average of $3,000 is being contributed daily through the mail to the Royal Jubilee Hospital Building Fund campaign, officials said Tuesday.

The fund has reached the $280,000 mark, leaving $130,000 to be collected by April 30.

The fund, along with $2,000,000 in government grants, will be used to build a four-story wing to improve the hospital's facilities.

Great Danes Make It Look Easy

By HUMPHRY DAVY

Physical "jerks" can be an enjoyable uplifting sport. A visiting gym team from Denmark proved this to more than 2,500 spectators at the Memorial Arena Tuesday. The 24-member Danish Gym Team staged a demonstration of physical exercises which enthralled the large audience. The show was a smash hit from the start to finish. Simple exercises such as "touch your toes" and "hands on hips and knees bend" became movements of grace and beauty. Tumbling exercises became symbols of strength, dexterity and perfect body balance.

'Ballet Dancers'

"They look like ballet dancers," commented one spectator as she watched a group of 12 girls perform a series of fundamental exercises.

"I never saw a group of men and women do exercises with such ease," said another. This was the general reaction of the audience, which included many high school students and younger children.

Sponsored by the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, the Danish team of men and women are between the age of 19 and 28. They are all amateurs—mechanists, farmers, office workers, interior decorators—representing all walks of life.

The team is on a nine-month tour of the United States and Canada, to show people that gymnastics can be as interesting a sport as hockey and football.

5,000 Clubs

Poul Clausen, managing director of the team, explained that there are some 5,000 gymnastic clubs in Denmark for people ranging between the ages of five and 70 years.

"During the winter months it is one of our main sports," he said.

Mr. Clausen's observation on the physical fitness of Canadians and Americans was not too flattering. He thought a big proportion of the North American population needed more exercise, including children.

He said schools could do more to teach physical education.

"You have some top-flight gymnasts in North America," he said. "But the people who take an interest in physical education are only a few. The people who need it most don't participate in healthy recreation."

At last night's show, members of the Danish team were divided into two groups—men and women, who each performed fundamental gymnastics—the common exercises taught in schools and YMCAs. There was no attempt to appeal to the audience through spectacular feats.

The female team specialized in rhythmic gymnastics. Women in Denmark are fond of doing their exercises in this way. The exercises are carried out in complete rhythm and harmony with music.

The men's team excelled in tumbling and work in the stall bars. Their poise and bodily co-ordination on the "high-horse" were amazing.

As a side-attraction, the team dressed in colorful native costumes and demonstrated some Danish folk and courtesy dances.

The entire performance

was accompanied by music played by Ingrid Elizabeth Nielsen, an accomplished pianist.

The women's team was under the direction of Inger Riis Laursen, who has taken part in many tours in Commonwealth countries.

132 Shows

Miss Laursen said her team was not performing any unusual or difficult exercises. "There are thousands of Danish women who can do the same," she said. "It's easy and any girl can learn to do the same."

Miss Laursen said the team

was beginning to feel a "wee bit tired" as they had staged 132 shows in the United States. They appear at Bellingham and Vancouver later this week.

The team arrived Tuesday and stayed overnight at the homes of Danish Canadians. They took the day off today and were taken on a tour of Victoria and the Saanich Peninsula. Tonight they will be entertained at Norway House by members of the Danish community. They leave Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mogens Nielsen, 3292 Tennyson, made arrangements for their entertainment in Victoria.

Quick-Hitting 'Flu Bug Here But It's Mild

Victoria has escaped the deadly Asian 'flu which has caused seven deaths in Winnipeg this year.

A mild three-day 'flu, which strikes quickly, is reported in many parts of the city now, but it is not serious enough to cause any alarm either to the hospitals or the city health department.

"We have had no serious cases of influenza this winter," a spokesman for the Royal Jubilee Hospital said today. "and the quick 'flu has been mainly confined to student nurses."

In Winnipeg the 'flu virus has been positively identified as a recurrence of the Asian 'flu which killed more than 125 Canadians in 1957. The seventh victim of the current outbreak was Mrs. Glen Gladu, 25-year-old mother of four children.

However, the Winnipeg outbreak is definitely on the wane and there is no cause for alarm, the city's health authority said.

ON ST. GEORGE'S DAY

'Less Enthusiasm But We Do Our Best'

Englishmen throughout the world—in cities and lonely outposts—will celebrate St. George's Day starting at midnight tonight.

In Victoria the day will be formally celebrated at the annual dinner of the Royal Society of St. George to be held at 904 Government Street at 6:30 p.m.

Frank P. Boucher, president of the Victoria branch, will preside and toasts will be drunk to St. George and William Shakespeare, whose estimated birthday falls on the same day.

"Alas, there is less enthusiasm for St. George's Day than there used to be," Mr. Boucher said. "But we do our best to honor the memory of England's patron saint as it should be honored."

The origins of St. George are shrouded in myth and mystery.

According to legend, he was born at Lydda, in Palestine, in 270 A.D., entered the Roman Army at 17 years of age and rose to the rank of Tribune. He was finally martyred at Lydda for adhering to his Christian faith.

MONTE ROBERTS

I think I have finally latched onto a winning crusade. It is well known to all loyal constituents that this space has indulged in more losing crusades than an electronic computer could compute in a month of Mondays. Not the least of these losing crusades, in fact possibly the most publicized, was the crusade to SAVE RIPPLE ROCK.

The crusade I have in mind is somewhat similar, except its destiny is success, not failure. For I propose to ask all constituents to join me in an effort to:

SAVE DAYLIGHT

What better cause could present itself? Is it not true that too much daylight is wasted? That daylight lost is not daylight saved?

Is it not true, in fact, that even the powers who have recognized this fact, and as of next Saturday have decreed daylight must be saved, come high water or what may? (Yes, it is true, all true.)

Therefore, I feel I am on safe ground when I urge one and all to rally round and

SAVE DAYLIGHT!

The way to do so, is this: Come Saturday midnight. (Or is it 2 a.m. Sunday? Well, anyhow.)

Come Saturday midnight, go to your nearest clock. Walk, don't run, because running might cause a clock in the sock. Once you have arrived at the clock, reach around the back to the little switcheroo kind of thing which controls the hands.

Turn the switcheroo until the hands go right around the clock for 60 full, glorious, fun-packed minutes. These 60 full, glorious, fun-packed minutes will then be cleaned right off the clock.

Thus you will have contributed to the crusade to

SAVE DAYLIGHT

But by all means, join in the crusade to

SAVE DAYLIGHT

After all, the daylight you save may be your own.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

It was "full house plus one" at the Ogden Point deep-sea docks today.

All five regular berths were filled, and a sixth ship was at the Victoria Machinery Dept's outer wharf.

All six are loading lumber.

Canadian Pacific Hotels today requested city council to rezoned property on which its laundry is located, adjacent to the Empress Hotel, in order to allow it to provide laundry service for St. Joseph's Hospital.

The hotel chain said it would handle some of the hospital's needs to offset a 50 per cent drop in its own requirements as a result of the cut-back in the CPR ferry services.

E. F. Watherston was re-elected president of the Dickens Fellowship Victoria branch at its annual meeting this week.

H. Wakefield Maunsell was re-elected vice-president and Mrs. Dorothy Hewitt White secretary-treasurer. Hostesses during the coming year will be Mrs. Dorothy Bradbury and Mrs. Jervis Reid.

Tentative date for the Fellowship's annual garden party has been set for Saturday, July 11.

The Free Food Stall has found a new home. Location of the new premises was withheld pending completion of negotiations later today.

But-stall convenor Mrs. E. E. Harper wrote city council saying the charitable organization would be able to move into its new quarters in June. She asked some assurance that the stall would be allowed to operate next month in its present location in the public market building—due to be demolished for a parking lot.

Carrying fishing tackle without a licence cost 18-year-old Robert Patrick Quinn, 4831 West Saanich, a $10 fine when he pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Tuesday.

Game officer Jack Lenfesty said Quinn was with two others in a boat at Prospect Lake, with three fishing rods in the boat.

Robert Heller, 2632 Estevan, was fined a total of $75 in city police court Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to five counts of failing to submit sales tax returns for October to February inclusive. Fines were $15 on each count. Heller is proprietor of Central TV Specialists.

Switching to daylight time: All airlines; Vancouver Island Coach Lines; Black Ball Ferries; Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Remaining on standard time: Canadian National and Canadian Pacific trains and steamships; Washington State Ferries.

Some transportation companies will follow fast time, others will stay with standard. Here is the summary:

Efforts by the Victoria Downtown Business Association to have bus service augmented to accommodate the customers and staff of city stores, which remain open on Friday nights, have been successful.

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon the directors of the association were told by W. R. Clark, president, the B.C. Electric is prepared to work closely with the directors in promoting retail activity and that extra buses will be operated on Friday nights.

Regular meeting of the Vic Van Isle Kinsmen will be held at the James Bay Hotel Thursday at 7 p.m. Reports on the boat show and the slate of officers for the coming year will be presented.

William James Varcoe, 920 Empress, was fined $50 in Saanich police court Tuesday for drinking beer in a car on the Patricia Bay Highway. He entered a plea of guilty.

Theft of shoes, socks and a baseball glove brought a shoplifting conviction in city police court today for Anne Kirk, 2911 Shakespeare.

Mrs. Kirk was fined $25 on the charge of theft under $50 value. She had pleaded not guilty.

Police said the woman took two pairs of woollen socks, two pairs of children's running shoes and the glove from Spencer's Stores Ltd., 1420 Douglas.

Provincial Labor Progressive Party (Communist) leader Nigel Morgan will address a public meeting at the Williams Building, 739 Broughton Street, on Thursday at 8 p.m.

City to See Aerobatics In August

RCAP Golden Hawks, aerobatic team formed this year, and set to give 36 exhibitions this year, will be in Victoria skies Aug. 23.

Flying Sabre jets with a red hawk's head on each fuselage, they will appear at air shows and Air Force Day celebrations.

The team is made up of eight RCAF flight instructors, led by Sqdn. Ldr. Fern Villeneuve, 31, of Ottawa. The 25-minute sequence of manoeuvres arranged by the team will be televised from the Air Force Day celebration at Ottawa June 6.

They will appear at the B.C. Air Show in Vancouver July 11-12, and will be at Comox Aug. 22 for the Air Force Day observance there. After the Victoria show April 23, they will rest until their appearances at Vancouver's PNE from Aug. 31 to Sept. 5.

Death Car Steering 'Shimmied'

Faulty steering may have caused the fatal crash of a car driven on the Malahat March 22 by Francis Gilbert, 19, of 1250 Palmer, a preliminary hearing was told Tuesday.

Gilbert, who is charged with criminally negligent driving in connection with the death of a 17-year-old passenger, Linda Henly, 1722 Jay, was committed for trial in a higher court at conclusion of the hearing in Colwood RCMP court.

Gilbert's car, with five other teen-aged passengers, was one of three which had taken a crowd of young people to a beach party at Shawnigan Lake, and was on the return trip to Victoria when the accident occurred.

PASSING

One occupant of Gilbert's car, James McMaster, said the vehicle swerved to the left to pass a leading car at Tunnel Hill, then swerved to the right, when he "saw the rock wall coming."

The car struck the wall and overturned, injuring all occupants, Gilbert only slightly.

McMaster said Gilbert's car was going about 70 miles an hour while passing the first car. He added he had noticed a slight shimmy in the car on vehicle seemed not to respond properly to steering.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Chan Sue Kee, 958 Mason, $40 for failing to yield right of way to a pedestrian in a crosswalk.

William R. Henly, 1143 Chapman, $40 for failing to remain at the scene of an accident and $35 and licence suspension for careless driving.

Uwe Schroeder, 1042 Southgate, $35 for careless driving.

ROBERT SMEAL

Vancouver Post for Labor Man

Robert Smeal, 39, leading Victoria trade unionist and a vice-president of the B.C. Federation of Labor, will start work in Vancouver Aug. 1 as a full-time secretary for the Canadian Air Line Flight Attendants' Association.

He was for several years B.C. representative of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers, but resigned last year to resume work with Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

Already he has started negotiating for the flight attendants on a part-time basis.

Schedules to Get Tricky With Fast Time Next Week

Daylight saving time comes into effect in B.C. and most of the rest of Canada at 2 a.m. Sunday, when clocks are to be advanced one hour.

Some transportation companies will follow fast time, others will stay with standard. Here is the summary:

Remaining on standard time: Canadian National and Canadian Pacific trains and steamships; Washington State Ferries.

Switching to daylight time: All airlines; Vancouver Island Coach Lines; Black Ball Ferries; Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

'Why all the fuss?'

IT'S SPRING

Geese Flap Really Only 'Love Play'

A flare-up in the bird world, reported from Fulford Harbor on Salt Spring Island, was dismissed today by Charles Guiguet, Provincial Museum biologist, as being "quite normal."

Observers on the island said they saw a huge V-shaped flight of Canada geese break up, with leaderless geese going off honking in all directions.

It appeared from the ground to be a battle for leadership. "It's typical goose behavior," Mr. Guiguet said. "They will be flying along in an orderly fashion, then suddenly they all will be doing loops, swirls, and dippy-doodles all over the place."

'LOVE PLAY' "Some of it is courtship and love play, and some of it is sheer exuberance," he said.

At the same time as the "in-surrection" at Fulford, observers noted unusually large numbers of hummingbirds in the vicinity.

This caused speculation on the truth of the belief that hummingbirds and other tiny birds "hitchhike" on their migrations by nesting into the feathers of large birds.

"It's an old, old story, kicked around for a long time but never proved," Mr. Guiguet said. "It comes up periodically."

Margot's 'Role' Draws Laughs

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP)—As a revolutionary, Britain's Dame Margot Fonteyn is a great ballerina. Take that word from friends, relatives and associates, all equally astounded that Panama police should think Britain's greatest ballerina may be mixed up in a revolutionary plot.

"I'll bet she's enjoying it all," said an official of the Royal Ballet when told Dame Margot was in a Panama jail while police try to figure out if she is in a plot allegedly involving her Panama husband. Today she was expelled from Panama.

"We all think she would make a marvelous revolutionary—on the stage. She'd know exactly what costumes to wear and she'd look glorious with a knife between her teeth."

"My daughter mixed up with a sunken gunboat? How silly!" exclaimed the dancer's mother, Mrs. Hilda Hookham.

"The experience should prove valuable to her next performance here in June when she dances in Delibes' Sylvia," said an opera house official.

"In the second act she is carried away and made captive in a palace to be saved by divine providence in the form of Cupid. Dame Margot is getting good training in Panama."

Dame Margot doesn't need the training. She is acclaimed as the greatest ballerina in the Western world.

In 1956 she went to Buckingham Palace and received the title of Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire—the feminine equivalent of knighthood.

Only about 150 talented women hold the honor. She has been the star of the Sadler's Wells, the Royal Ballet Company, for more than a decade. Margot was born in Reigate, England, May 18, 1919, the daughter of a British engineer for the British-American Tobacco Company. Her mother was from a rich Brazilian coffee family.

Margaret began dancing at four. When the family moved to Shanghai she took up ballet dancing seriously.

At 14 she made her debut in London as one of the 28 snowflakes in the Nutcracker Suite, and in a few years was dancing leading roles.

Offstage, she is an impish lady who likes to jitterbug.

In 1955 she married Roberto Arias, then Panamanian ambassador to Britain and son of the former president of Panama, Harmodio Arias.

(Asked at Miami if she would return to London, she replied: "Yes, but I don't know exactly when." Later she arrived at New York.)

TRADE PACT AGREEMENT
BY CANADA, AUSTRALIA

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and Australia have successfully completed the initial stage of negotiations on a new trade agreement which, informants said today, may help expand Commonwealth trade generally.

The proposals made by the negotiators now will be considered in detail by the Australian and Canadian governments and informants said there appears to be little doubt that the formal signing of a new trade pact—the first major revision in 28 years—will be undertaken soon. The new pact would require ratification of the two parliaments.

'Tune'—Pearson

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson, accusing the government of showing "bad faith and bad management" in its policies, said Thursday night Canada's word doesn't mean as much now as it used to.

'FLEXIBLE
FLEMING'

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition leader Pearson Tuesday night tagged Finance Minister Fleming with a new title—"flexible Fleming."

He said Mr. Fleming in his budget talked learnedly about a flexible approach to budgeting. This indicated that Mr. Fleming had been converted to the economic ideas of John Maynard Keynes, who used to be the target of the minister's jibes when Mr. Fleming sat in opposition.

However, Mr. Pearson said, this late-in-life conversion was in the true Conservative fashion. True Conservatives adjusted years later to changes made by Liberals, even if the ideas they adjusted to had themselves become outdated.

Record Industrial Output

OTTAWA (CP)—Industrial production in Canada hit an all-time high in February, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Regaining its stride after the 1957-58 slump, the production index—based on 1949 equalling 100—rose for six consecutive months to reach a record 160.9 in February, up 3.1 points from January and 9.7 points from February last year.

This 9.7-point rise in the index, adjusted for shifts in Canada's production seasons, compared with a drop of 9.3 points in the similar 12-month period a year ago.

All major segments of the industrial production index showed gains in February. The mining index rose to 256.4 from 243.1 in January and 242 in February last year; manufacturing to 143.4 from 141.4 and 135.2, respectively; electric power and gas utilities, to 263.6 from 264.7 and 237.3.

Industrial production is a key indicator of Canada's economic health. February's gains and emphasis to the forecast of Finance Minister Fleming in his April 9 "recovery" budget that Canada's national production this year would rise by 7 per cent to a record $34,500,000,000.

Government agencies reported Monday that unemployment in Canada declined for the second straight month between late February and late March. This was a reversal of the usual seasonal trend.

Entering the second-last day of the eight-day Commons budget debate, he said the budget presented April 9 by Finance Minister Fleming shows the "startling contrast between past promises and present performance."

"It's a record-breaking budget all right, but it breaks all the wrong records," he said.

After criticizing a number of government policies, Mr. Pearson said "no wonder we accuse the government of both bad faith and bad management."

CANADA LOST FACE
It has "lost face both at home and abroad," he said. "The word of Canada doesn't mean as much now."

Greeted with government challenges that he give examples, he referred to the government's refusal to send RCMP reinforcements to Newfoundland; to its "repudiation" of financial aid terms in that province's confederation agreement; and to the government's refusal to buy certain paintings for the National Gallery.

Mr. Pearson said the budget Continued on Page 2

Man Leaps
To Death
From Bridge

VANCOUVER (CP)—A former Edmonton man ignored the pleas of onlookers and plunged 200 feet to his death into Burrard Inlet from the Lions Gate Bridge today.

Dead is Allan Comm, 24. His 20-year-old companion told police Comm raped her twice before he drove to the bridge and leaped to his death.

Four men pleaded with Comm to climb back to safety, as he clung to a girder. "To hell with you," he shouted.

The woman told police Comm raped her in his car after they had been drinking beer together. He forced her to stay in the car while he drove towards the bridge.

As they neared the bridge, Comm, who said he was "going for a swim," told her he wanted to kill her. He asked her to write the will.

She drove the car to the toll gate and warned tollkeeper Don Sheckley, who telephoned West Vancouver police.

For several minutes, as Comm clung precariously to the girder, a tugboat patrolled below.

Then he released his grasp and plunged to the water, landing 50 feet from the tug.

Will Wen-Gren
Drop Scheme?

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Wall Street Journal took a long look today at Axel Wenner-Gren's ambitious hydro-electric power and mining scheme in British Columbia.

The financial paper pointed out that the Swedish financier still could back away from the whole idea as he did from his grandiose development scheme in Southern Rhodesia "in highly similar circumstances several years ago."

Correspondent Raymond Scherick, writing from Hudson's Hope, B.C., mentioned, but did not dwell on, another aspect of Wenner-Gren's vast Peace River scheme—the Swedish financier, now 73, years old and his B.C. scheme is no development to be rushed to completion in a year or so.

The Journal also treated with reserve the pledge of the Wenner-Gren interests to start construction next year of a 400-mile monorail system to the Yukon border.

U.S. CAPITAL?
Noting that B.C. premier W. A. C. Bennett takes the Wenner-Gren promise to start work on the monorail system in dead earnest, the Journal speculates that perhaps the Swedish financier and his Canadian and British associates hope to get American capital for that part of their scheme because the railway would lead toward Alaska.

It is pointed out that, so far, the explorations have been carried out with great secrecy although some 460 claims have been filed at the Vancouver mining recorder's office by Wenner-Gren's Totem Mineral, Ltd.

Russ Demand
Hypocritical

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today rejected as completely hypocritical a new Soviet demand that the Western powers withhold nuclear and other modern weapons from West German forces.

The Soviet government, in a note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Tuesday, charged that the West could torpedo the Geneva foreign minister's meeting on German issues by going ahead with NATO defence measures.

The Big Four ministers will meet next month.

State department press officer Lincoln White declared in a statement that what the Soviet government seeks is to get the West to "discontinue the defensive measures it has undertaken against the threat posed by Soviet armed might."

"Soviet efforts to achieve this goal," White said, "can only be regarded in the West as completely hypocritical so long as the Soviet union itself fails to indicate its willingness to engage in controlled disarmament."

KATHMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Communist Chinese troops have turned Tibet into a vast prison with thousands of Tibetans being whipped each day in the streets and Buddhist nuns sent to army camps for the pleasure of the troops, refugees fleeing to Nepal reported today.

They said nearly 2,500 Tibetan monasteries were damaged or destroyed by Communist artillery in the past month and nearly 8,000 monks killed, 12,000 arrested and about 800,000 lamas forced to flee homeless and hungry into the mountains.

This correspondent travelled through the snow-covered 17,000-foot mountain passes in the border of Tibet and interviewed the refugees. At the Nepal-Tibet border a few miles north of the village of Tarke, I met some refugees who said some of 30 well-armed Chinese divisions in Tibet were led by Russians.

One English-speaking Tibetan named Thote, a 27-year-old graduate of Peiping University, said the Chinese killed 165 members of his clan in the village of Ghetumba in Kham province. He said he saw his father machine-gunned for refusing to betray other Tibetan patriots.

Entire Villages Destroyed

Thote said that during his flight to Nepal he has passed through 65 villages that had been known as good trading centres and that every one was destroyed by the Communists with not a sign of life visible anywhere.

"Every Tibetan was a prisoner," he said. "The whole country was turned into a vast prison. Dusk to dawn curfews were imposed all over Tibet and did not allow normal living."

"Thousands of peaceful, innocent Tibetans were being whipped daily in open places in the course of questioning and inhuman methods were being applied for confession. Mostly the people preferred to confess as desired by the Chinese than stand tortures any longer.

"Markets are closed; essential consumer goods have disappeared; trade is finished, resulting in numberless deaths inside houses from artificial starvation caused by the Chinese. Any mention of devotion to the Dalai Lama was a serious crime and people were being forced to show their entire devotion to the Panchen Lama."

"Large numbers of nuns, who locally are called 'ennis', have been forced to live in army camps at the pleasure of the Chinese. Several nuns reportedly committed suicide

Nervous Pains
Genuine Enough

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Member, Division of Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation
In the last chapter, I used the now-common word, "psychosomatic." This word comes from two Greek words—psyche and soma—meaning mind and body.

The idea is that the mind can influence the state of the body to produce illness. The reverse of this is a somato-psychic illness, in which disease in some organ, like the heart, so scares the patient that he gets a bad anxiety neurosis. Such a neurosis can wreck the person's health more than the original disease does.

One of the earliest descriptions in medical literature of a psychosomatic disease is to be found in the story of a famous Greek physician who, in ancient times, was called to see a young prince who had quit eating, had become apathetic, and had taken to his bed.

The doctor got his hunch when, as he was feeling the lad's pulse, a beautiful court lady came into the room. With this, the lad's pulse bounded and became rapid. On inquiring, the doctor found that the young man was in love with the girl, and when the king, his father, agreed to their marriage he promptly recovered.

The writers of the Bible knew much about psychosomatic medicine when they said, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine; but a broken spirit drieth the bones." Also, "Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith."

Four hundred years ago, the great essayist Montaigne told of a girl who, after a dinner party, was victimized by a practical joker who told her that she had "eaten a baked cat." In spite of the fact that she had done no such thing, she became alarmingly ill.

A young Mohammedan student at an American university who, when told wrongly, and as a joke—that he had just eaten pork, became so horrified that he promptly got to vomiting. In a huge, crowded, dirty restaurant at a world's fair, I once watched a sensitive and emotional woman

SOCRED GOV'T SIMILAR TO FASCISTS—BRYAN

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Social Credit government in B.C. is becoming "increasingly similar" to a Fascist party, Mel Bryan, former Social Credit member of the legislature, said Tuesday night.

Now a Liberal member for North Vancouver, Mr. Bryan told a party rally here the government "withholds reports, makes deals without public knowledge and now it proudly announces the final Wenner-Gren deal won't even come before the legislature."

"If all the people in the province who are leaving Social Credit were lined up end to end, the premier would have a heart attack."

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

THURSDAY, APRIL 23, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—During a.m. a clever idea occurs to you just how to increase abundantly, but then you are suddenly faced with so many obligations and pressing bills that you quickly feel defeated. Be astute in handling others and follow up on idea.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—You appear to arrive at a real understanding with associate in a.m., but during afternoon you are put to tests that require every bit of ingenuity and intellect to pass. Be victorious and be sure you do not offend or hurt others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Plan your day minutely and follow such schedule, though, their will be problems cropping up that would deter you from full accomplishment. If you accomplish one half of what you intended, you will still be far ahead of the game. P.M. take it easy.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—You arise in good spirits and full of inspiration, but the headaches of the day crop up to put a damper on things. However, they need to be cleared away sometime, so why not do it now while you feel strong and capable. Work.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Home duties and obligations need your undivided attention and much diplomacy today, but if you are going to grumble over them, it is best you get out into the world of activity.
Thus, you still have a productive day and avoid arguments.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Tend to your shopping, selling, calling early now. But be sure you drive carefully all day, and are cautious in motion, for any nervousness on your part could lead to a serious accident of some sort. P.M. is time to sit back and dream.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Fine opportunity to put aside or office in fine order during a.m. Later in the day, take care you are not extravagant with your money or time. Impress others with your wisdom.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Do everything you can to make your appearance as charming as possible during a.m. Later, you may be in the mood to dominate others, but this would only lead to argument, so use that charming smile instead and get much further.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Morning is just fine to put behind you all those pressing duties.
Later in the day you may be pretty tired and want to rest and rave, but if you keep calm you will show far greater wisdom. Give a helping hand to those in need.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Better plan a fine day's work now, since many of you-kin and friends are in a mood to be demanding and somewhat quarrelsome. This puts money in your pockets while at the same time saving many a good friend. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—You can do your regular job very efficiently today and get your credit up higher. Also, take care you follow every law and regulation to which you are subject or you stand to lose much ground and prestige.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Look for needed information from paper and other fine printed media in a.m. You are then eager to put new ideas to work immediately, but this has to wait until the morrow, since other pressing tasks are before you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY...
The mercurial child-birth Thursday will be so full of vitality and drive that you must see they are channelled in the right direction, or you stand the chance of having your child take the wrong road simply to have something he or she considers interesting to do. Excellent chart for government or police work where law and order are to be maintained, or becoming head of bank, big business, etc.

Veiled Royal Couple Finally Freed by Pope

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)— Sombrely dressed in black with black veils and mantillas, the Queen Mother and Princecess Margaret today were released in private audience by Pope John XXIII.

It was Princess Margaret's second audience with a pope.
Pius XII received her 10 years ago when she spent a holiday in Italy.

Sir Marcus Cheke, British minister to the Vatican, has denied press reports that today's audience means the princess wishes to join the Roman Catholic Church; or that the pope representative in London will be elevated from apostolic delegate to papal nuncio.

The 77-year-old pontiff met the two women at the threshold of his quarters, shook their hands warmly and ushered them into his library for the private audience.

The Queen Mother and the princess made slight curtsies but did not kneel, as Roman Catholics do when meeting the Pope.

They wore black dresses and veils customary for papal audiences. But the somberness of their costume was brightened by tiaras, and the Queen Mother wore the jewel and

Speeder Admits Excuse Lacking, Pays $110 Fine

Evert Vos, Sooke Road, was in complete accord with the magistrate when he was fined a total of $110 in Saanich police court Tuesday on four charges of speeding and driving his motorcycle without a licence.

Vos pleaded guilty first to driving over 50 miles an hour without a licence, between 65 and 70, March 14, then to speeding over 30, at 40 to 45 an hour on April 15, again without a licence.

Magistrate William Ostler termed the offences "complete defiance. There's absolutely no excuse for it."

"No, there isn't," agreed Vos.

The magistrate will recommend that Vos be denied a licence for two months.

2 City Doctors For BCHIS Board

Two Victoria doctors are among four named this week by the British Columbia cabinet to act as a medical consultation board for the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service.

Purpose of the board is to "review and advise on questions of medical eligibility for BCHIS benefits."

Board members are Dr. G. R.
Blott, of Nanaimo; Dr. H. M.
Edmiston and Dr. G. W. Robson, of Victoria, and Dr. J. A. Traynor, of West Vancouver.

Under Bond

A former Vancouver woman,
Mrs. Eva Gerry, Chandler
Hotel, was placed on probation and $500 bond for six months' good behavior when given a suspended sentence in Saanich police court Tuesday for forgery and false pretences.

The woman pleaded guilty to forging a cheque for $50.15 and to writing a worthless cheque for $25 during a drinking spree.

A condition for her probation is that she take treatment for alcoholism, which she requested of the court.

$750 IN PRIZES Victoria Daily Times Silhouette Contest

The Silhouette Contest is simple and easy to work. It consists of 60 silhouette drawings of famous persons and 120 pictures. All you have to do is identify the silhouette, write the name of the person on a small card and paste them with pictures of the people you think are portrayed in the silhouette. Each person shown in silhouette will be shown by picture but not necessarily on the same day. In addition there will be 60 pictures of other persons who will not be shown in silhouette drawings. Thus you will have 120 pictures from which to make your 60 selections to go with the 60 silhouettes. Keep the 60
needed for the final Silhouette Scramble.

The contest starts on Saturday, March 7, 1959. Each day for 60 days an silhouette and two pictures will be printed. After you have paired a silhouette with a picture, paste or in some way fasten the matching pair on a single sheet of paper. All 60 sheets are to be fastened together in order and each sheet should bear your name.

The contest will award $750
in cash prizes to the winners.
There are no entry fees. The prizes are:
1. $500
2. $100
3. $100 and four prizes of $25 each.

The contest is open to all residents of Vancouver, Victoria and the surrounding area. Entries must be received by the deadline of May 1, 1959.
The names of the winners will be published in the Times in due time.

By entering the contest, the participant agrees to accept the decision of the judges as final.
